Alienist Says New Paranoic, Insane

DR. HOAGON STAND AT SLAYING TRIAL

Dr. E. O. Sawyer Declares Prisoner Brooder, and Community Menace

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Harry S. New's mental condition was the subject of further detailed testimony when his trial opened today. Dr. E. B. Hoag of Pasadena, mental expert and special lecturer for the University of California, took the stand as an alienist for the defense. He analyzed New's case as follows:

New is constitutionally an inferior person; is of a psychopathic personality; a paranoic; suffers from dementia praecox; is feeble-minded and insane. He based his testimony on an examination of New, a study of New's history and of the evidence and depositions presented at the trial.

It was learned this morning that the prosecution will not deny the allegation that New is of an inferior mind but will present expert testimony in an attempt to prove he is only dull and is not demented.

New sat unmoved while Dr. Hoag picked his brain, figuratively to pieces, although the analysis could not have been pleasant to listen to. Dr. Hoag's testimony was given in a more conversational manner than any so far introduced and was interspersed with sparkling observations which added to the interest.

"It takes very little ability to be a private in the army," he declared at one point.

"There are many men practicing law who are not balanced," he confided to District Attorney Woolwine. "Yes and many doctors, too."

"Frieda Lesser must have been a remarkable girl not to have realized New's mentality," he said in answer to a question.

"New had a theoretical knowledge of right and wrong up to his standard of intellect."

He agreed with Dr. Ross Moore who testified yesterday that New's mentality was that of a boy slightly under 12 years of age.

Much of Dr. Hoag's testimony covered the same ground as Dr. Moore covered, their opinions agreeing in all main points.

District Attorney Woolwine's cross examination took up most of the morning and was very searching.

"I don't want to have to give you a lecture," Dr. Hoag said, "but if I must I will."

Discussion of insanity

He then started an exhaustive discussion of insanity and kindred subjects under the guidance of questions from the district attorney. Those in the court room received a liberal education on such subjects.

"I know a man with less intelligence than the defendant who works for a United States post office at $75 a month," Dr. Hoag said at one point.

"A man's education has nothing to do with his intelligence. His intelligence allows him to take more education."

Dr. E. O. Sawyer was called as the third alienist for the defense just before noon. He defined New's case as follows:

"He is a man of low mentality and a brooder. From the time he learned he was alleged to have been born out of wedlock he has brooded and is a dangerous person to have in the community. His mind stopped developing when he was probably 10 years of age."

No session of the trial was held this afternoon.

GERMAN PEACE DELAYED UNTIL 13TH OF MONTH

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Signing of the protocol and final exchange of ratifications to make the treaty of peace with Germany effective will probably not take place sooner than January 13, it was indicated here today.

The plan to complete the long peace negotiations on January 6 virtually has been given up, it was said, owing to the illness of Kurt von Lersner, the German emissary, and the fact that Premier Clemenceau is on a vacation in the department of Var.

Interest in Paris has shifted somewhat from the treaty negotiations to the attitude of Clemenceau toward accepting the presidency.

Latest advices here said he had consented to become an honorary member of the senate, but still refused to announce whether he would be a presidential candidate.

PETITION FOR SCHOOL OF BLIND DEFICIENT

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—An initiative measure to place on the 1920 ballot an act appropriating $1,400,000 for establishment of the California Academy for the Blind failed today. J. M. Cremin, statistician in the office of the secretary of state, said today:

Only 38,340 signatures were filed, while 55,094 were necessary. It was said proponents of the measure are making plans to circulate new petitions under the 1920 registration.

REPORT TRAIN WRECK. CASUALTIES UNKNOWN

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Chicago offices of the Chicago and Great Western railroad reported that train No. 3 was wrecked near Wyeth, Mo., early today. Several cars were derailed, the report said, but wires were cut and no information regarding casualties was available. No. 3 is the Minneapolis-Kansas City train.

MUST REMOVE LIQUOR FROM PUBLIC PLACE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Collector of Internal Revenue Carter today received the following telegram from Prohibition Commissioner Kramer in Washington:

Executive Roundly Cheered When He Pays Visit to Group of Lads

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The one real popular man with the page boys in the United States Senate is Vice President Marshall. The vice-president always finds time to speak to the boys and give them a smile and he never has to give an order to any one of them a second time, either does he have to wait for anything if the pages can get it in a hurry and they generally can when they start after it.

The boys claim the vice-president is a "regular guy" and recently when he was among a group of them before the senate session took up a photograph happened along just as the lads were giving the vice-president three cheers. There wasn't any particular occasion for the cheers other than that the boys wanted Mr. Marshall to know what they think of him. It was the first time for several weeks that he had entered their room and they wanted him to know he is always welcome.

JOHNSON IN L. A. SAYS CAMPAIGN TO START SOON

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Hiram W. Johnson, United States Senator from California and candidate for nomination for president, arrived today from San Francisco accompanied by H. L. Carnahan, former state corporation commissioner, who will open "Johnson for President" headquarters here.

"Americanism will be the primary issue in my campaign for the nomination for the presidency," Johnson declared in an interview. "I will deal also with the extravagance and inefficiency of the present administration."

Johnson will leave tonight for San Francisco and will then start east beginning a speaking tour of the middle west about January 15.

GEN. MURCIA REMOVED FROM HEAD OF TROOPS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 3.—Newspapers received here from Saltillo, Mexico, say that President Carranza of Mexico has ordered the removal of Gen. Francisco Murcia from command of the federal troops in Coahuila and has sent General Manuel Uguiza to relieve him. The removal was ordered, it is said, because Murcia failed to engage Villa in battle after Muzquiz raid.

JUDGMENTS ENTERED IN 18 U. S. OIL CASES

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2.—Although it was expected today that the 18 oil companies involved in the recent decision of Judge Robt. S. Bean, of Portland, would appeal, judgments aggregating $2,977,677.56 have been entered in the federal court here against the companies.

Judge Bean decided adversely to the oil companies in the suits which involved the so-called Taft Withdrawal Order of 1909. The judgments are for the value of oil the companies are alleged to have taken from the property from 1914 to 1917, which, under Judge Bean's decision, belonged to the government.

POLICE SAY DEAD MAN NOT NOTED GEM THIEF

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Los Angeles police, after searching their records, said today they did not believe Lee Thos. Leighton, alias Norwood, killed here by gangsters a week ago, was Frank Shercliffe, noted diamond thief and bandit.

Their records indicate that when Shercliffe robbed a train in Iowa in 1905 Leighton was serving a term in the Missouri state penitentiary and when Shercliffe was arrested in Colorado for murder in 1910, Leighton was in San Quentin, Calif., penitentiary for robbery.

They are making a further investigation, however.

SEINE FLOOD RISES

PARIS, Jan. 3.—The flood in the Seine has risen nearly three feet more and the depth of the river at present exceeds that fixed in official estimates.

GROWERS OF BEETS PLAN FOR GREAT SEASON

Farmers and Helpers Will Get Nearly $5,000,000 for 1919 Work

BEET growers today are breaking into the 1920 race with Old Man High Cost of Living with every prospect of gathering in more shekels from their industry than ever in the history of the growth of the ungainly beet in this county.

The five sugar factories will have thrown into the laps of farmers and laborers between $4,500,000 and $5,000,000 when they have completed payments on beet deliveries for 1919. The past season was a decidedly off year, and with the prospect of great yield per acre and an even higher price for beets in 1920, the farmers have a rosy year before them.

Cash payments by the factory on the 1919 crop today total $13 ton for 15 per cent beets. The crop will average returns of $15 per ton, the larger percentage of the yield being over the 15 per cent base. Final payments have not been made yet.

With the sugar price that prevailed last year and the prospects for a still higher price in 1920, and the price of beets based on the selling price of the refined product, farmers who have been growing beets the past year or two are again turning to the cultivation of the vegetables carrying saccharine. The situation is very attractive and in the opinion of many, more money is to be made in the growing of beets than in bean cultivation.

Some Plants Closed

Last year everything was against the beet growing industry, with the result that one of the plants of the Holly sugar company in this city did not turn a wheel in the grinding season. It will be different this year.

Fancy prices for beans the year before induced many beet growers to plant beans last season, cutting down the acreage to beets. Light rainfall had its effect also, not only cutting down the acreage but in materially reducing the yield per acre. Many acres of unirrigated lands planted to beets made no showing whatever.

Contracts are being offered on the same basis as last year, and are being signed more or less readily. Some are holding off to know which way the wind is going to blow with reference to rain. A good rainfall at this time would aid many in deciding whether they want to sign a beet contract for the year. A two-inch rainfall now would give a definite incentive to growers to attach their names to documents obligating their acreage to the factories.

The price per ton for beets is based entirely on the selling price of the refined product by the plants. Payments so far have been on the basis of about 9.24 cents per pound for the little granulated crystals, and it is conceded that the average will be better than this.

How Prices are Fixed

Under a 10 cent price, the grower will receive $13.33 per ton for 15 per cent beets, with the increase averaging close to one dollar a ton for each percent of saccharine contents about the 15 base. At a price of 12 cents per pound for sugar, $16 per ton is the quotation for 15 per cent beets. It is generally believed that the factories will get about 12 cents this year.

Planting is now in progress on some of the alkali lands, it having been fully demonstrated that early planting is necessary to the successful production of beets on this character of soil. General planting will be in February.

"This is going to be a bonanza year for beet growers, the best in the history of the industry," today declared a man prominently identified with the industry in this county.

"There is every indication that sugar prices will be high, and with the higher quotations the farmers benefit, by reason of the character of the contract offered—beet prices based on the selling price of sugar."

Dangerous Workings Of Bolshevism Reported To Solons

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—A complete revelation of the dangerous workings of bolshevism throughout the world, with the directing force at Moscow, is in possession of congress, it was learned today following the roundup of more than 3,000 red agitators.

The report, which was compiled by the Russian affairs division of the state department, has been sent to the senate foreign relation committee and the house foreign affairs committee by Secretary of State Lansing and is expected to be made public soon.

U. S. IS MOVING QUICKLY TO GET REDS DEPORTED

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The government began to move swiftly today to deport alien reds seized in the nationwide roundup conducted by federal agents last night and this morning.

With isolated raids still continuing here, scores of aliens were hurried to Ellis Island, where preparations were made to rush through their hearings. At the same time special trains were being made ready to bring in hundreds of reds from other cities for hearings at Ellis Island. It was believed that another "anarchist ark"—or possibly an entire fleet—would be ready to sail for Europe with hundreds of deportees within a few days.

Of the 650 men and women arrested here, all but 201 were released today.

"I believe we have succeeded in breaking the backbone of the radical revolutionary movement in the United States," William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, who directed the raids here, declared early today.

Raids Planned Carefully

"These raids mark the beginning of the end of organized, rapid revolution in this country. We planned the move very carefully, and the results exceed our expectations."

In cities adjacent to New York the following arrests were reported:

Newark, N. J., 150; Bayonne, N. J., 75; Passaic, N. J., 50; Jersey City, N. J., 25.

Eight hundred and eighty warrants were issued in New York alone and operatives were confident that practically the entire number would be served before this evening.

The raids in the eastern cities began promptly at 9 o'clock last night and by midnight the majority of warrants had been served, though sporadic raids still were going on at daybreak.

Forty federal operatives here were assisted by seventy-five policemen in plain clothes. Every known headquarters and gathering place was swooped down upon. About fifty women ranging in age from 16 to 65, were arrested.

All aliens will be taken to Ellis Island immediately for deportation, it was believed. The American citizens were expected to be turned over to state authorities for prosecution.

POPE URGED TO HELP RETURN OF PRISONERS

ROME, Jan. 3.—Pope Benedict recently received a letter from the international committee of the Red Cross at Geneva, urging him to use all his influence to hasten the repatriation of 200,000 prisoners still in Siberia who are suffering the gravest privations. The Pope said he would ask authorities concerned to co-operate for repatriation of the prisoners.

The Japanese Emperor and government have been approached on the subject.

CONGRESS TAKES REST

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 3.—The Mexican Congress has adjourned sine die. In the Senate Government adherents elected a majority of both the permanent legislative commission and the body which will have charge of the installation of members of the next Congress, which will meet September 1, 1920.

NATIONWIDE ROUNDUP SHATTERS SCHEME TO "SOVIETIZE" AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—More than 4,500 alleged radicals have been taken into custody in the nationwide drive, it was learned this afternoon at the Department of Justice. The result which is not completed exceeded expectations.

The reds are still being apprehended and the great raid will show a total far above that of the combined red roundups of last year. Complete evidence against more than 2,000 of those now held is in the hands of the department of justice and their deportation is expected, it was stated. The opinion was expressed that 90 per cent of those held will be deported or convicted of criminal anarchy for the advocacy of violence to overthrow the United States government.

CITIES WHERE RAIDS NETTED MANY RADICALS

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—One hundred and fifty alleged "reds" were in custody here today. All were arrested in raids continuing through the night. Particular attention was paid by federal officers and police to communist organizations, but other radical headquarters were also raided.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 3.—Deportation proceedings will be started today against a large proportion of the 100 persons arrested here during the night in the drive against radicals.

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 3.—Nine alleged violators of immigration and criminal syndicalism laws are in jail here today as the result of raids conducted by department of justice operatives last night.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 3.—A raid arranged by the department of justice and carried out by the local police netted 136 alleged radicals here last night.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 3.—Nine alleged radicals and quantities of "red" literature were seized by federal authorities here early today.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 3.—Federal officials held nine alleged reds here today, following raids last night.

80 Seized at Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 3.—More than 80 alleged radicals were seized here last night.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 3.—(United Press)—More than 500 alleged reds and radicals, with a sprinkling of alleged I. W. W., today awaited action by immigration authorities, following a series of simultaneous raids here last night by federal, state and city police.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 3.—Six alleged radical leaders—four men and two women—were under arrest here today following raids by department of justice agents, assisted by agents from the bureau of immigration service.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 3.—Stephen Andrich, said to be secretary of the communist party in the United States, was among 34 alleged radicals taken in raids by federal authorities here and in East St. Louis last night and this morning. Quantities of red literature was seized.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 3.—Seven alleged "reds" and 15 Americans who are said to belong to radical organizations were rounded up by federal operatives here last night and early this morning. A half ton of radical literature was seized.

Fifty in Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 3.—Fifty persons arrested in raids on alleged red headquarters throughout Indiana last night were to be brought to Indianapolis today for action by federal officials.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 3.—About 75 alleged radicals were arrested here last night and early today.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 3.—According to official figures, 57 reds were under arrest here today following raids by department of justice agents last night.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 3.—Federal agents and the entire local troop of state constabulary swooped down

Details of the organization of the two communist parties which sought to "sovietize" the United States were made public by Francis P. Garvin, assistant attorney general. The revolutionary movement in this country was the result of the third international soviet conference held at Moscow March 2 and 3, 1919, it was stated.

"From the examination of various documents in his possession Attorney General Palmer believed the following to be definitely established so far as the communist party is concerned," the statement said:

Outlines Palmer's Beliefs

The statement then outlines Palmer's beliefs as follows:

"That the communist party was the outgrowth of the left wing of the Socialist party of America.

"That it is an integral part of the first congress of the Communist International formed by the Bolsheviks.

"That through its history as the left wing of the party it followed the doctrine of mass action and the advocacy of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

"That the first congress of the Communist International advocated the overthrow of all governments of the world through force and violence by mass action.

"That the communist party in America at its Chicago convention advocated the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence.

"That each and every member of the communist party of America pledges himself knowingly to the tactics enunciated in the manifesto of the Communist Internationals.

Overthrow of Government

"That the Communist party of America through the propaganda carried on at the present time is advocating the overthrow or the United States government by force and violence.

The same conclusion also applies to the communist labor party."

The attorney general by a long list of documents revealed that the organization in this country was a direct result of the efforts of Lenin and Trotsky, who were direct it as much as they were able to without the advantage of direct communication.

The raids were still in full swing today. Raids and arrests have been taken in some of the "red" dens. High explosive bombs found at Newark, N. J., had been prepared for mailing.

As reports of arrests came in today, Commissioner General of Immigration Campinetti at New York, checked off on a huge "war map" of the United States spread before him the localities where each raid was made. Several thousand warrants were issued in preparation for the wholesale raids. Nine o'clock last night was the "zero hour" which had been decided on weeks in advance.

From coast to coast at that hour the agents closed in on the revolutionists and soon hundreds of them were being hustled into patrol wagons and carried to jail. The raids took place almost simultaneously in Boston, New York, Baltimore, Denver, Cleveland, St. Paul, Philadelphia, Chicago, Buffalo, Newark, N. J., Manchester, N. H.; Louisville, Oakland, Cal.; Paterson, N. J.; Trenton, Bridgeport, Conn.; Holyoke, Mass.; Waterbury, Conn.; Lawrence, Mass.; Lynn, Mass.; Toledo, Jersey City and Detroit.

Many Smaller Raids

In addition there were many smaller raids in towns adjoining these places. Representatives of the department of justice and other government agencies, the salaried men who combated the German spies during the war were busy this morning in scores of jails cross-examining the men and women gathered in overnight. It was expected that large numbers would be set free during the morning, while still more are being brought in for the interrogation. Orders were issued that the dangerous radicals should be "mugged" and their

MALLETT MAKES TIRE RECORD WITH OLDS

Fred Mallett, fast baseball pitcher in the early days of the game in Santa Ana, has been putting on some speed in handling his Oakland Six, for he has reported to H. S. Gilnet, local representative of the Olds agent, that he had driven his machine 18,000 miles on the original fabric tires before he had a bit of tire trouble. That's going some and no one who knows the former ball champion will question his statement.

The service the Oldsmobile Sixes and Eights are giving the owners in Orange county," said Gilnet today. "Everyone is loud in praise of the machine, and it is not an infrequent occurrence to have drivers come in and tell us stories similar to that of Mallett. I say that his mileage and the fact that he had no tire trouble until he had driven 18,000 miles is some record. It attests the claim of the manufacturers that the Oldsmobile is a car that works with such smoothness that it makes tire expense on Oldsmobiles almost a minus quantity."

Oldsmobile Sixes were delivered this week to P. G. Riley at Anaheim and J. E. Dalton at Orange. The firm recently has taken the agency for Mohawk tires, the territory being all of Orange county. Special attention is now being given to service in Oldsmobiles, the firm having arranged its room and secured expert Olds mechanics.

AUDIENCE WELL PLEASED WITH "TWIN BEDS"

For the third time "Twin Beds" has scored in Santa Ana. It showed at the Yost Theatre last evening with a brand new cast. None of those who in visits to Santa Ana in the years ago carried forward the intricacies of the play successfully was on the stage last night.

To most of those who crowded the theatre last night, "Twin Beds" was shown for the first time, and to say that it pleased and delighted the audience is putting the effect mildly. Those who had seen the ever-amusing situations could not, of course, fail to make comparisons in the handling of the parts. And in those comparisons the cast that put on last night's show did not suffer.

If one were to look far he would not find a better Blanche Hawkins than that of Miss Josephine Saxe, a petite blonde of the changeable doll type, while Signora Monti, as done by Miss Kathryn Tracey in her everlasting chase to keep up with her husband's love affairs, was supremely satisfying.

Signor Monti as presented by August Aramini, was a very different Monti from the original Monti seen here a few years ago, not quite so smooth, perhaps, but every bit the kind of Italian singer raised from $18 a week to $2000 a night that the play intended should be portrayed.

Harry Hawkins, the husband poster by too much company and too many neighbors, was admirably done by Hugh O'Connell, and the lesser parts were carried off successfully.

The settings of the play were attractive. The play started promptly on time and in every other way the local management was decidedly "on the job."

TRACTORS MEAN FARM METHOD REVOLUTION

Mechanical power means a revolution in farm methods; the power farmer of the future will produce foodstuffs at a fraction of their present cost, and it is even possible that the soil of the country will be tilled by a working population relatively, if not actually, smaller than that of today.

The tractor does not merely mean an increase in comfort and material resources; it means the maintenance and further evolution of democracy itself," says M. Elitiste of Orange. "It is an enemy of drudgery."

"Take it the year around and the world over, men work for horses more than horses work for men. Chores the farmer has always with him, and of them, horse-care forms no small part. With the tractor it is different; the driver can shut off the power and that is all there is to it. Repairs or adjustments can await his convenience. Nor is the labor of driving the tractor hard or exhausting. The horse has had no small share in driving the boys from the farm. Perhaps the voice of the tractor will call them back."

It was estimated that there were about 121,700 tractors in use early in 1918, and there were 132,697 manufactured during that year, of which 36,470 were sold in the United States. A 1919 production of 314,936 tractors in the United States is estimated.

College Boys to Entertain At Temple Tuesday Night

Students and Music Will Feature Program of Jolly Evening

A more versatile aggregation of entertainers than the members of the University of California Glee Club who will appear at the Temple theatre next Tuesday evening would be hard to find. Since each man who is touring the state with the Club was chosen not only because of his voice, but also because of his ability to do a special turn, the college boys have a program crowded with "stunts."

Paul McKee, '23, an accomplished soft-shoe dancer, and L. G. Blochman, campus wizard, will offer dancing and sleight of hand acts. Vocal numbers by Ron Hunt, '19, and L. L. Nuemiller, '20, selections by the Golden Bear quartet, and, of course, the club ensemble numbers, round out a well balanced program.

SITE PURCHASED FOR NEW CRATE FACTORY

With the purchase of a four-acre site and the letting of the contract, both done today, the California Crate Company today is preparing to re-establish its factory in the shortest time possible. Crate manufacture will be in progress again within thirty or forty days.

The officers of the company today completed the transactions which provide for a new site for the factory and building operations to start at once. The contract was let to G. A. Barrows of this city, who today started laying out the ground for the new structure.

The new site is a four-acre tract adjoining the old factory location on the north, and immediately east of the Santa Fe tracks. The property was purchased from Mrs. Phillips, day completing the deal.

The company will have 400 feet along the Santa Fe right of way and in order to accommodate the new factory the railway company will be asked to extend the sidetrack on which the factory was formerly located.

The first building will be 48x96 feet, and it is expected that it will be completed within three to four weeks. Machinery is now on the way and is expected to be here by the time the building is ready for its installation. None of the old machinery could be salvaged and the equipment will be new modern.

It will be the most modern. New equipment will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. The new building will cost about $4,000, making an investment at this time of about $14,000.

Four carloads of material have been ordered and are enroute. It will be on hand when the factory is ready, so no time will be lost in starting the work where it was interrupted by the fire last Sunday morning.

Temporary storage will be secured and this summer a large storage warehouse will be erected on the new site. The company's plan at this time is to get busy on the crate contract as quickly as possible, and it was today stated that they were certain the company could make delivery on the 270,000 onion crates ordered from the Coachella district on the date specified in the contract, May 15.

No attempt will be made to manufacture toy aeroplanes until the crate contract is out of the way. Manufacture of these probably will commence on a small scale within ninety days, with the factory going full blast on this character of work by the opening of summer. The factory will attempt to stock up enough on the toy planes in order to take care of spring and summer orders coming in the early part of these seasons.

BIG MOTORCYCLE RACES ASCOT TOMORROW

Santa Ana motorcyclists are taking a keen interest in the big 100 mile championship race scheduled for tomorrow at Ascot Park in Los Angeles. Practice by prospective contestants has been in progress for the past two weeks, with qualification runs yesterday. An accident of yesterday resulted in the death of "Bob" Perry, one of the experts from the east who came to Southern California with a view to capturing the honors. He was riding a specially built, powerful motor. Speeding at 85 miles an hour, his machine swerved from under him, throwing him 150 feet into an iron fence. He died last night at a hospital.

Here is a list of those who have qualified for the big event tomorrow:

TOP MANUFACTURER AND PAINTER MOVE

Low Norman, auto top manufacturer, and W. J. Van Aken, auto painter, have consolidated their interests by moving into the same quarters, taking the room at 405 East Fourth street just vacated by the Buick agency. Here they will have more room and will have two lines of business under one cover that will prove advantageous to both as well as to their customers. Norman is moving from 117 E. Third and Van Aken from Third and French streets.

Great Raid on Anarchists In Time to Avert Revolt

Finger prints taken before being turned loose, even if they were not to be held. In this way the government is getting a complete record of the men who are considered at the bottom of much radical agitation in America.

Although there had been no "leaks" of plans for this coup, radicals became aware that the federal authorities were watching them closely, and for the last few weeks they have been keeping very quiet. So close was the surveillance that the Bolsheviks were unable to go through with their alleged plot to mail bombs done up as Christmas packages, which was part of their alleged conspiracy to give America a "red Christmas," but the exact hour of the big raid was kept secret and in most cases the anarchists were taken by surprise.

Federal detectives believe they have captured several of the men implicated in the May Day bomb plot of 1919 and also persons who were involved in a number of other red "offenses" against law and order.

Fusion Is Prevented

The government's counter offensive of last night was launched just in time to prevent a fusion of several radical groups under one leadership preparatory to the attempt at revolution, it was learned. The raids have shattered this plan and thrown the bolshevik into confusion, it is believed here. Attorney General Palmer's men are making every effort to get the big leaders this time. In previous raids the big men have slipped away and within a few weeks have managed to reorganize the red forces.

In connection with their major scheme of revolution a number of the prisoners taken during the night have been active in certain labor organizations, it was learned, attempting to line them up with the "reds." The labor organizations received them innocently, not knowing their mission.

Documents taken, it was said, showed the anarchists intended to put forward candidates in elections next November. These men were to be supposed reputable citizens whose bolshevik affiliations would not be disclosed until after they had achieved public office.

The department of labor was busy today getting ready to start deportation proceedings against many of those taken during the night. Evidence was being telegraphed in from all parts of the country to be used in preparing the necessary papers.

Purposes of Party

The department of justice made the following announcement of the aims and purposes of the communist party, as revealed by its own propaganda documents:

"The communist party is a conscious expression of the class struggle of the workers against capitalism. Its aim is to direct this struggle to the conquest of political power, the overthrow of capitalism and the destruction of the bourgeois state. The communist party prepares itself for the revolution in the measure that it develops a program of immediate action expressing the mass struggles of the proletariat. These struggles must be inspired with revolutionary spirit and purpose, in close connection with the unskilled workers is the problem of the negro workers. The negro prob-

1ST CLEVELAND DELIVERY MADE BY GORDON

W. R. Gordon, salesman for C. L. Davis, Chandler and Cleveland agent broke into the new year with a delivery of a Cleveland to his credit, the first of this make to be delivered in Orange county. Myrtle Terry, of E. North street, Anaheim, is the man who has the distinction of being the first Orange county man to come into possession of the car that many have been waiting for months. There is promise of more of the cars coming soon, and Davis and Gordon are taking a model of the Cleveland during the Orange County Fair at Huntington Beach, there has been an insistent demand for the car, but the agent has been powerless to even give promise of delivery on any date.

Conditions have changed and with the opening of the new year comes the comforting information that in all probability the factory will soon be sending them to the coast with some regularity. As fast as they arrive here they will be delivered to purchasers who have been on the waiting list for some months.

A carload of Chandlers arrived today, information of its arrival coming more or less as a surprise to Davis. He knew the shipment was en route, but did not know it was so near its destination.

ORANGE RESIDENT EXPIRES SUDDENLY

ORANGE, Jan. 3.—Geo. W. Shell, 71, of this city, died suddenly at Newport Beach last evening. Suffering from asthma, the family rented a cottage at the beach and Mr. Shell was taken there a few days ago in the belief that the change would benefit him. Last night about 10 o'clock his wife was awakened by his distress and went to a neighbor for assistance. When she returned she found her husband dead.

Mr. Shell had been a resident of Orange for about fifteen years. Besides the widow, he is survived by four sons and three daughters, all of whom live in the vicinity of Orange and Olive.

HOPE FOR BIG RAIN AS SHOWERS ARRIVE

After a forenoon of very slight and intermittent drizzles—for the most part hardly heavier than a fog—a light but steady rain was falling in Santa Ana at 1:30 this afternoon, giving ranchers hope that a series of real Southern California showers would develop.

Rain is very badly needed in Orange county at this time. Dry weather during the past few weeks has had a tendency to offset to a considerable extent the moisture that fell early this winter. Farming activities in the entire district will be materially aided, even if only a light rainfall occurs now.

"Showers, and unsettled weather," read the official forecast issued in Los Angeles today for tonight and tomorrow.

WHY GO MAD ON NEW YEAR'S EVE?

The Register has no desire or inclination to appoint itself as guardian of public morals in anything but a general way, but it is wondering why young people who are perfectly sane on the average occasion will shake loose the hold which sobriety and morality has upon them and make New Year's Eve a night of wild carousal.

First hand stories, coming from some of those who participated in the revelry at two or three of the beach resorts of Southern California, make it plain that the character of the entertainment Wednesday night was far from innocent.

The story, the truth of which there is little reason to doubt, is that a great many young girls and boys, several of them from Santa Ana, spent the night on one long, wild, howl of a time, through which liquor flowed freely, and during which acts were committed that may result in the public shame of the girls who participated. The source from which the liquor came will perhaps remain unknown, but the important fact is that it was there, and that the young girls sampled it freely with the resulting unfortunate and irresponsible, and to say the least, deplorable conduct.

It is a fine thing for the fathers and mothers of young girls and boys to have perfect confidence in them. It would be distressing, indeed, if the parents should come to look upon the actions of their children with suspicion, but it would be more distressing still if, through the blind trust of the parents, our boys, and especially our young girls, should be led by improper associates into a state of moral abandon from which there is so little hope of returning.

The Register has the welfare of all young people at heart. It prescribes no specific remedy for the condition which appears to exist, leaving that to the parents and to the boys and girls themselves. It prints these statements in order that boys and girls may know that unbecoming conduct cannot be indulged in without the facts becoming generally known and forever remembered to their detriment, and in order that the parents may know that grave danger lurks just around the corner.

A LOYALTON CENSUS

One result of the Armistice Day trouble in Centralia, Wash., was the immediate formation in Lewis county of an organization known as the Loyal American League. Every loyal American citizen is eligible to membership. Notary publics all through the county are supplied with blanks on which oaths of allegiance may be taken. Each person admitted receives a card of membership, without cost.

Employers expect their men to own such cards. The governor of the state has appointed organizers in every other county in the state. The aim of the league seems to be chiefly the identification of all loyal men and women, whatever their age or affiliation. It demands that every loyal and law-abiding citizen make his presence known and add his bit of influence to the side of decency and order.

When the forces of good thus line up on the side of righteousness in any community it is always found that they outnumber the forces of evil. It is a good thing occasionally to do something of the kind. It enables people to decide for themselves just where they stand on any question of honesty and patriotism. It also has a wholesome effect upon the disloyal minority whose work is bold and dangerous only so long as it is allowed to go unchecked and unopposed by the public will for good.

THE DROP IN BONDS

Liberty Bonds have been going down lately in value or rather, in market price. The decline has been more rapid than ever before, and has been especially noticeable because it followed a period of slow, steady rise.

Why the drop? Many reasons are given, but the big, obvious reason is simply that great numbers of people all at once, have wanted cash more than they wanted bonds. To get the cash, they sell the bonds, and the dumping of so large a quantity on the market at one time naturally forces down the price. If nobody were selling, they would be quoted higher right along, until all the issues went over par.

Why do people want the cash rather than securities which are the safest in the world, and among the most profitable?

Generally for one of two reasons. Either they want to invest the money in something else that is far less safe, but promises a larger return; or else they want to "blow in" the money.

There are exceptions, of course. Many people are obliged to let their bonds go in order to meet debts, or make payments on sound investments—buying homes, for example. Such disposal of the bonds is legitimate and beyond criticism, even though parting with them is to be regretted. But certainly people invite criticism, and also pity for their folly, when they throw away hard-earned government bonds in speculation or extravagant living.

TO AVOID STRIKES

The magazines are finding stories of settled industry fashionable just now. One after another, great plants are described, and the tale of their management is told in full. In this method of representation of labor and in that method of profit-sharing, one is assured, lie the remedy for all strikes and labor troubles.

After a reader has gone through a dozen or so of these he realizes that the method is merely incidental to the main point, every time. The factories which have been run for 30 or 40 years without a strike are those whose owners are working according to the co-operative principle. They have always realized that the relation between capital and labor was a partnership, not a tyranny of one over the other. They have realized that workers are as human as themselves, and have taken hold of the matter as a human, man-to-man proposition. They have realized that in a really successful business, all must benefit—every man who helps produce the article, and every man who is served by it. The article must be sound and honest; it must be made by sound and honest methods and sold by sound and honest means.

Such a plant naturally develops its own morale. The profit-sharing or the representative board or anything else of that kind is merely machinery through which a sound and honest spirit acts.

These plants put the golden rule into their business, and find that it pays.

Attorney General Palmer found that he really could deport a few Reds if forced to do so. First thing we know, Palmer will be trying to place responsibility for delay upon Senator Poindexter, reasoning that if Poindexter had introduced his resolution of inquiry sooner, the Department of Justice would have been aroused to action sooner.

The Servant Question

From the Delineator—
A man said to us the other day that the maid and other questions of housekeeping efficiency would not be solved until the business men of the nation took hold of the matter.

Naturally we were filled with conflicting emotions by his statement. One feeling was of admiration for his courage. Undoubtedly the majority of men believe as does our friend, but few have the nerve to tell a woman so. Another feeling was of mild amusement at this renewed display of the eternal egoism of the male sex. And still another feeling was of humility, with the secret admission that, to a certain degree, he probably was right.

As far as the mechanical side of the house is concerned, the business man probably could organize far better than the average woman. The house would be more efficiently equipped, more simply furnished. Men's training has prepared them far better for this sort of organizing than has women's.

But with the maid question—well, we have serious doubts as to man's superiority here. He has not shown himself especially wise in handling labor questions. And the maid question is a labor problem of a peculiarly personal and delicate character.

We have several times on this page laid down the dictum that the servant problem is a matter of competing in hours and wages with factories. Yet a number of women have written us, after reading the dictum that however they may meet or pass the factory pace, maids will not stay with them. On the other hand, we know women who keep their maids in spite of overwork and underpay.

So, somewhat timidly, we lay down a new dictum. The servant problem can not be dealt with by generalities, for each case is a problem of personal relationship between two women. Regardless of sex, not one person out of ten thousand knows how to be a boss. Tact, sympathy, unselfishness and a blending of democracy with a capacity for leadership—all these must be long to the successful boss. What training or experience does the mistress receive to qualify her for inspiring confidence, respect and affection in her maid? And the relationship between mistress and maid is so intimate that unless these three qualities exist, the relationship ceases.

What man will undertake to teach a woman to be a boss?

The Friendless Pup

No Seat for a Traitor

It is the duty of the House of Representatives to make quick disposal of Victor Berger.

Once refused a seat in Congress because he had disqualified himself under the constitution by his war course, he has been "re-elected" by his Wisconsin district at a special poll. In the meantime nothing has happened to remove his disability—indeed, it is permanent—and the House should treat him with exemplary expedition.

Like all other false leaders Victor Berger is attempting to pose as a martyr. In high-sounding words he hopes that his election will serve "to awaken the common people of the United States, especially the working class, to a realization of the great dangers before us and the duties we must fulfill if modern civilization is to progress or even survive."

Well said, Victor! May the spectacle of your re-election in defiance of the constitution and of decency and patriotism arouse the "common people" to a realization that the menace of the hyphen is with us yet!

The governor of Wisconsin declares that if Berger is again denied a seat, as he is certain to be, he will not call another election and the district must go unrepresented until the regular election of 1920.

It is well. A district that would send Victor Berger to Congress had better not be represented.

The American flag is flying over vessels on 41 trade routes, it is announced. It took war to drive us to do what for our own interest we should have done long ago.

California's Candidate

From the Riverside Press

One of the most active advocates of the league of nations in California is Chester H. Rowell of the Fresno Republican; and on that issue he does not agree with Senator Johnson. On the other hand Mr. Rowell is an enthusiastic advocate of Johnson for president and a vigorous supporter of the movement to send a delegation from California to the Republican national convention that will back Johnson as the party nominee.

The position taken by Mr. Rowell is typical of that of other prominent Californians who have disagreed with Johnson in the past on some special issue, or who do not at present follow him on the league of nations controversy. Former Governor Henry T. Gage and former Senator Frank P. Flint may be cited as examples. They both belong to the "regular" wing of the Republican party and in some state campaigns in the past have been acting among the opponents of Johnson.

All of these men, however, with their varying views on state and national issues, unite in the view that Senator Johnson is not only a man of remarkable ability and personality but thoroughly sincere and patriotic. They recognize in him one of the great leaders of the party, a man of national reputation and conceded leadership in the senate; and they agree that California Republicans should back him to the limit for president.

Minor differences in the past or present should be subordinated and the state should maintain a united and aggressive front in favor of its favorite son for president. At present it is any man's race and locality considerations will cut much less figure than in the past. Republican leaders all over the country concede that the first consideration with the Republican convention is to nominate a strong, inspiring, capable leader who can make a winning campaign before the people; and it matters little whether he comes from California or New Hampshire. Johnson meets the specifications demanded in a candidate; and California Republicans should give him a genuine California backing to the end that the possibility of a president from the Golden State may be realized.

Worth While Verses

The Land of Dreams

Ah, give us back our dear, dead land of Dreams!
The far, faint, misty hills—the tangled maze
Of brake and thicket—down green woodland ways
The hush of summer—and on amber streams,
Bright leaves afloat, amid the foam that creams
Round crannied boulders, where the shallow blaze
Then life ran joyous through glad, golden days,
And silver nights beneath the moon's pale beams.

Now all is lost. There glooms a dark morass,
There throbbed the thrush across the dappled lawn
Oh, never more shall fairy pageants pass,
Nor dance of light-limbed satyr, nymph and faun,
Adrift among the whispering meadow grass,
On wind-swept uplands, yearning toward the dawn.
—Henry M. Hoyt, Jr., in Smart Set.

GOOD SHOW ON TODAY AT TEMPLE THEATRE

"When the Clouds Roll By," starring Douglas Fairbanks, is only one of the features of the current bill at the Temple theater, starting a four-day run with a packed house Thursday night. Other numbers are the Paramount Magazine and a musical vaudeville act. "Doug" is still up to form, but the first part of the play doesn't show him as he is accustomed to be shown, and it is only toward the last that he enlivens the picture with the rescue of several people from the flood after the big dam had burst, a high dive and a wedding on top of the floating church. The villain, of course, is chased off his life raft by a bull dog and is soon forgotten. Some of the scenes were taken at Naples, between Seal Beach and Long Beach.

Harper Items

HARPERVILLE, Jan. 3.—The New Year came in with a noise and a bang about Harpersville. Quite a few of the folks attended watch meetings and some in one way and some in another watched the old year die and the new come to life.

Billy McClintock, contrary to precedent, succeeded in making his hay without rain. Every one was expecting rain when Billy commenced to make hay, but for once they were disappointed. Billy is now domiciled in his new home, a mile north of Harpersville. He will grow beets now instead of alfalfa.

Rev. Jones, pastor of the Los Alamitos Friends' Church, has recently purchased ten acres of land from William Hensler. Mr. Jones is interested in dairying. He will now have ample room upon which to conduct his growing business.

Thomas Plant, manager of the terminal hotel for comers from Detroit, Mich., is having a new tank placed in position for use on his ranch.

H. B. DeWitt of Harpersville, returned from Tulare the past week with his family and brought with them his wife's mother, aged 83 years, and she endured the long ride in the flivver without any seeming inconvenience for one of her age.

The hunting trip that Colonel Garfield Allen has been planning for was launched last Tuesday. Accompanied by his brother, Milo Allen, and Nathan Harmon, F. P. Rossett and Rollin Rossett, the colonel led them to the game, and, in abundance was the result. Every one of the party came back with bulging game bags.

The Los Alamitos Friends' Church will open a series of evangelistic services Sunday, January 4. An evangelist of reputation from Boston, Mass., will have charge of the services. Mr. Jones, the pastor, plans to hold the services for at least one week and perhaps longer, should the interest demand it. The community is heartily invited to attend and hear this speaker.

Since Dr. George Washington Schroder has assumed the responsibility of seeing the "ghost" that has been the talk of the neighborhood for a number of weeks, it seems that others are willing to testify to the certainty of the appearance of the "ghost." W. R. (Billy) Young says that a number of times on his return to his room at night he has met the hombre, and, in one instance it appeared about to speak, but Billy admits he did not remain and hear what the spirit had to say.

New Year's day was enjoyed and celebrated by many of the citizens of Harpersville by attending the Rose Tournament at Pasadena.

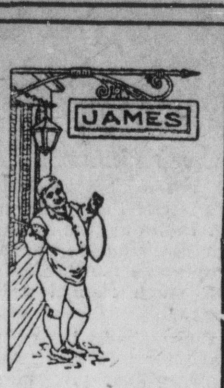

George Oertly (Tobe) spent part of the first day of the year calling on Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Rossett. Mr. Oertly is an ex-football player and seemed greatly interested in the game played at Pasadena between the East and the West. Mr. Oertly says the game was really a tie.

The drive for members to the Farmers' Club will be conducted the 7th of the month and all the plans are ready to open the campaign and it is hoped that every rancher will be persuaded to join for his own and his neighbor's best interests.

Rev. Watry is now in his new home, recently purchased. The home is near the P. E. station at Cordinez, and was until the last few years the residence of Dr. Clark.

Mr. Sanoval, the secretary of the Men's Club of Los Alamitos, is growing a splendid field of cabbage. Mr. Sanoval is a most successful cabbage grower.

Soel Oertly has purchased a new team of mules and is now prepared to grow beans on even a greater scale this year than last. Mr. Oertly was the bean king of the season.

How to Judge the Safety of Securities

"The great danger in depending too much on recommendation of "friends" cannot be too strongly emphasized. The great mass of investors do not rely upon their judgment of the real value of securities, and do not even care to know facts."

THE value of securities can only be determined by expert analysis. If you cannot or will not make such an investigation yourself, you must depend upon a reliable investment house to do so for you.

If you will ask your banker you will find that this firm has a reputation which is second to none for integrity and for giving honest, dependable service to investors.

We do not pretend to be able to give you "tips" on how to get rich quickly. We can help you to invest your funds in amounts of $100 or more so that your money will be safe and you can obtain a reasonable income. Write, call or telephone for our latest list of investment securities.

Pleasant Dinner Given

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wiesseman and family entertained the Charles Heil family at dinner Thursday. A sorority sister of Miss Violet Wiesseman, Miss Louise Fiske, of Los Angeles, was also present at the pleasant affair.

Gay Leap Year Ball

About one hundred and twenty-five couples attended the Leap Year ball given under the auspices of the American Legion at Elks' hall New Year's Eve and pronounced it a great success.

Ferns and palms were effectively used to transform the ball room into a bower of loveliness, making a fitting background for the beautiful costumes worn by the ladies present.

Chapman's five-piece orchestra was just the required touch to make the evening one of supreme enjoyment.

During the evening many colored balloons were floated from the balcony, giving a very pretty effect.

At midnight the company was given a decided shock when six concealed klaxons blew a shrill blast, announcing the new year. Dancing then continued until 1 o'clock.

New Year's "House Warming."

One of the jolliest New Year's Eve parties was the "house warming" at the pretty new home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lockett at Olive, in the form of a whist party. First prizes were awarded to Mrs. Paul Davis and Harry Kendall; the consolation prizes going to Mrs. Dick Whitson and Attorney Adams.

Holly was used for the cheerful decorations throughout the house and for the table.

Beside the host and hostess, the jolly gathering included: Mr. and Mrs. Dick Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kendall and Mrs. Paul Davis, of Newport News, Va., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Otto Jacobs.

Daughters of Veterans Meeting.

Mrs. Eva Bell, department president of the Daughters of Veterans, with a staff of sixteen, went to Huntington Beach Friday night and installed officers for the ensuing year. Huntington Beach Tent has struggled along for two years with a small membership and, owing to many new members, is for the first time able to have a full staff of officers.

A "stirrup cup" of delicious coffee with dainty sandwiches was served to the Santa Ana Tent just before their departure.

Santa Ana Tent is invited as a whole to attend a dinner and installation of officers at Fullerton next Monday. All are expected to meet with Mrs. Talbot at the Central Auto Park at 10:30 a. m. A way is provided for all the conference year. Mrs. Eva Bell, with her staff, will be installing officer.

"Farewell" Present Given.

Miss Kate Owens was given a pleasant surprise, Wednesday, her last day in the position of stenographer at the city hall, when Recorder W. F. Heathman, in behalf of the many employees of the city hall, presented her with a beautiful ring in token of the deep esteem in which she is held by those who have been closely associated with her for so many years. Miss Owens resigned her position to accompany her mother to Los Angeles to live.

Berrydale Community Club Meets.

The Berrydale Community Club met at Mrs. Susan Belt's home, Jan. 2. It being the first meeting of the year, new officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Miss Bertha Belt, president and Mrs. A. D. Parsons, secretary, to succeed Mrs. F. Lutan, president and Mrs. N. L. Smith, secretary.

During the afternoon, the members finished a quilt. Mrs. Parsons was the lucky one and walked away smiling with the pretty quilt under her arm at the close of the meeting. There are seventeen members of the club, and ten, so far, have quilts. A delicious luncheon was served at the meeting.

Hosts to Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Swales will be hosts to the Country Club next Thursday evening, when they will entertain the membership with a dance at the Country Club. A jolly evening is anticipated.

W. R. C. Meets.

The Woman's Relief Corps held its last meeting for the year 1919 yesterday afternoon in G. A. R. hall. Mrs. Harriet Coulter presided. The newly elected officers will be installed Wednesday, the 14th inst., jointly with the new officers of Sedgwick Post, G. A. R.

Miss Margaret Esau was balloted for and elected to become a member of the corps.

The regular tea will be held next Friday, the 9th, with Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead, as chairman.

Mrs. Hervey Sells Home.

Mrs. A. R. Hervey has sold her home on the corner of French and East Washington avenue to F. G. Bruns, who has been living between Olive and Anaheim. Mr. and Mrs. Bruns' sons and daughter reside in Santa Ana and they wish to be near them. They will make some improvements in the house.

Mrs. Hervey and her family will move to their cottage at Balboa, which is being remodelled, in about three weeks.

Bride and Groom Honored.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Henderson, assisted by Misses Laura and Mary Henderson, entertained last evening at their home, 309 South Birch St., honoring Mr. and Mrs. John A. Henderson, Jr., who were married in Pasadena December 24th.

The rooms were gaily decorated with poinsettias and ferns. Mrs. J. G. Kennedy and Mrs. Martin Warren, friends of the groom, were responsible for a shower of kitchen utensils being a feature of the evening, resulting in the presentation of a large clothes basket, filled with many aluminum and pyrex utensils, to the honored couple.

Progressive games caused the evening to pass very pleasantly, small favors being given. Refreshments, consisting of salad, coffee, ice cream and cake, were served to about forty guests.

Jolly Husking Bee.

It is not very often nowadays that one hears about a corn-husking bee. The members of the South Methodist Epworth League know all about them, anyway, for last night Mr. and Mrs. John Walton entertained them at their country home near Anaheim with a regular "old time husking bee."

Shortly after six o'clock nearly fifty people were served, cafeteria style, with a delicious chicken pie supper, prepared by Mrs. Walton.

Following the supper, sides were chosen for the corn-husking.

Fearing that red ears of corn might be scarce, some of the boys had taken some of them with them. These were very popular, as any boy with a red ear was allowed to kiss a girl.

After the corn was all husked, the young folks played out door games around a beautiful big bon-fire before going into the house for a series of progressive games.

Paul Ozmert won first prize in the games, while Mr. Walton took the "booby" prize. A big "sing" ending with "Dixie," the favorite of all southerners and "Good Night, Ladies," completed the evening's pleasures.

Tustin Meeting.

The Tustin Literature Section of the Ebell society will meet with Mrs. W. M. Belding, Seventeenth and Prospect avenue, Tuesday afternoon.

Surprise Wedding in Arizona.

The many friends of George Gallison, nephew of S. R. Obarr, will be surprised to hear of his marriage to Miss Ophelia Elizabeth Tyler at Clarkdale, Arizona, New Year's Day. Mr. Gallison is very well known in this city, having been employed here in the meat market at Fourth and Main streets when it belonged to Bergman and Obarr, and also at the market connected with Gerrard's grocery store.

Entertain Juvenile Children.

Children at the Juvenile home, were given a jolly informal entertainment at the Home yesterday by Mrs. Harry E. Kaiser, wife of the superintendent of the County hospital. Miss Swall, head nurse of the hospital, and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh of this city.

Several delightful vocal numbers were given by Mrs. Slabaugh and her daughter, Virginia, who played each other's accompaniments. Miss Jessie Lee Gray, one of the children at the school, sang some very pretty songs and Evelyn Sherrill danced her Indian dance and also the Highland fling.

A large Christmas box filled with toys, candy and other things was presented to the children.

Missionary Society to Meet

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Free Methodist church will meet Monday, January 5, to hold the regular monthly meeting. The official board meeting will convene at the close of the prayer meeting Thursday evening for regular business session. The second quarterly meeting for all the conference year will begin Friday evening, January 9, and last over the Sabbath. District Elder Rev. J. E. Cochrane will have charge.

Jolly Birthday Party

Mrs. M. H. Shields, 1416 North Main street, entertained Wednesday evening with a delightful birthday party, honoring the birthday of her daughter, Miss Sylvia Shields.

A dainty yellow and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations, yellow roses appearing on the table, where covers were laid for eleven, including the honoree.

Dancing and cards were the diversions of the evening until about 11 o'clock, when refreshments, consisting of home-made cake and ice cream, coffee and candy, were served.

A pleasant surprise occurred just as refreshments were being served, when Cecil Shields, brother of the honoree, arrived unexpectedly from San Diego, where he is stationed at present, in the U. S. Navy.

Those who enjoyed the evening with Miss Shields were Misses Louise Jensen, Edith Jessee, Stella Titchenal, Lela and Gladys Shields, Messrs. Leon Elliott, Cecil Shields, Gregory Cratser, Louis Frostifer and Sergeant Fred Faber of Arcadia.

New Year Nuptials

Beginning the glad New Year by plighting their troth, Miss Ruth Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Whitney and niece of County Recorder Miss Justine Whitney, was wedded at 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon to Sergeant Herman Zabel, of Camp Baker, Texas, having ten months more in army service before his term of enlistment expires. He is a close friend of his bride's brother, Ray Whitney.

Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the Church of the Messiah, read the impressive service of the Episcopal church, the bride and groom being unattended. Only immediate relatives witnessed to ceremony, after which Sergeant and Mrs. Zabel made a brief trip to Los Angeles.

The bride is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and of San Diego State Normal, now being a teacher in the Placentia school. She will finish the school year, while her husband concludes his service in the army.

The many friends of the young people will wish them great happiness in their married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Shriver Entertain

On New Year's day, Mr. and Mrs. Shriver entertained at a pleasant dinner party, their guests for the day, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Avers, being Mr. and Mrs. C. Kauffman and son, William, of Long Beach, and Mrs. D. W. Crawford of this city.

Babe's First Birthday

A delightful family chicken dinner was served yesterday evening at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, honoring the first birthday anniversary of their winsome baby daughter, wee little Miss Geraldine. The board was most prettily appointed and centered with a crystal bowl filled with waxen Roman hyacinths and dainty pink sweet peas. A miniature cake, iced in white and topped with one tiny pink candle, was brought in to the happy little maiden and she succeeded in blowing the taper out with one breath, which action was duly applauded by the family.

The evening was spent with music. Beside the parents and their little daughters, Geraldine and Eugenia, there were present Mrs. L. P. Yandell, Mrs. Gilbert's mother, and her sister, Mrs. John Y. Yandell, both of Bishop, Cal., who have been holiday guests at the Gilbert home and who will depart tomorrow for a trip to Canton, Miss.

Little Miss Geraldine was the recipient of a number of substantial checks, a handsome birthday spoon from her parents and many other pretty gifts.

The Best Cough Medicine

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it and when in need of such a medicine is almost certain to use it himself and in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. J. B. Jones, a well-known druggist of Culberson, Ky., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for the past seven years, and have found it to be the best cough medicine I have ever known."—Adv.

COURTHOUSE NEWS

Cox Blames Crime Wave On State of Atmosphere

Atmospheric conditions are responsible in a large degree for "crime waves," in the opinion of Justice John B. Cox.

In a discussion today, relative to the apparent fact that crimes of various sorts ebb and flow, at least in Orange county, Justice Cox declared it to be his belief that the weather may have more than a little bearing on this condition.

Deputy District Attorney A. P. Nelson cited the phenomenon that in this county arrests for various kinds of offenses are made seemingly in waves.

"There will be a period of 'bad check cases,' followed by an influx of arrests for non-support," said Nelson. "Then, there may follow a considerable number of arrests in connection with statutory offenses. Still later there may be a 'wave' of arrests for assault with deadly weapons."

"It was at this point that Justice Cox interjected his theory as to the bearing of atmospheric conditions upon crime.

"I'm convinced that if the truth were known it would be found that the temperature and weather conditions generally have a distinct bearing on waves of crime," said Justice Cox.

The present period is one that is referred to by deputies of the sheriff's office and the district attorney's office as "quiet." Very few arrests have been necessary recently. The advent of prohibition is largely responsible, it was stated.

Sheriff C. E. Jackson, referring to the comparatively many reports of serious crimes, emanating from Los Angeles county, said that Orange county was particularly fortunate that there had not been, at least up to the present time, any considerable overflow of crime into the boundaries of Orange county.

"Crimes of a serious nature have been rare in this county during the past few months," said Sheriff Jackson. "The people of Orange county certainly have every reason to congratulate themselves on this fact."

PAVING ASSESSMENT INVOLVED IN ACTION

A judgment totalling $177.19, together with interest at 10 per cent since March 14, 1918, will be sought by Gilbert and Earl Quirk, of San Diego, assignees of the Los Angeles Paving Company, from Emil B. Helmsen, Richard Spoerl, John Cassou, Marie Cassou and Sarah Black, through a suit which was filed in superior court today by Attorney William M. Brown of Los Angeles. According to the complaint the amount in question was levied as assessment on two lots at Anaheim, in connection with the paving of an alley between West Center and Chestnut streets. ## ALEXANDER HAS QUARTERS ON W. FOURTH

"Immediate Delivery" W. E. Alexander, Jr. has at last found a "foot-hold" in Santa Ana, and today has a carload each of the Westcott and Allen cars on the floor at 424 West Fourth street. He is taking the quarters at the Liberty Garage vacated by the Wass Auto Company.

Alexander has been "fencing" for some time for a location for establishing the county agency for these two popular lines in Santa Ana. He will move his family here from Anaheim as soon as he can find house accommodations.

"Immediate Delivery" has been adopted by Alexander as a prefix to his name and representative of what he proposes to do in handling the agency. He has taken particular pains to get a contract that insures delivery of the cars as fast as he needs them, thus avoiding long waits by those who want these makes.

A Westcott with a special Dale top, with the Dale touch, is now on exhibition at the showroom. It is a 48-60 horsepower Westcott. The special top carries the popular and attractive plate glass windows, with the interior lined with blue leather. The body is painted in marine blue. The car is some classy looking machine and is admired by all who have seen it.

FUNERAL SERVICE, MR. REEVES, HELD

Mid many beautiful flowers, fittingly illustrative of a beautiful character, funeral services for H. H. Reeves were held this morning at Mills & Winbigler's chapel. Gathered there were scores of friends of Mr. Reeves. Members of Santa Ana Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, of which chapter Mr. Reeves was high priest during the last year, attended the funeral in a body. Something of the wide interest and devotion and activities of Mr. Reeves was shown in the floral pieces that came from various organizations of this city.

The first portion of the services was in charge of Rev. F. G. Davies, pastor of the First Baptist church, in which church Mr. Reeves was an active leader. Rev. Davies paid a high tribute to the Christian character and work of Mr. Reeves. Quiet but forceful, optimistic, cheerful and with a deep religious conviction, Mr. Reeves left upon those who knew him a lasting impression of devotion, faithfulness and usefulness.

Two solos were beautifully sung by Mrs. Lord. One was "Face to Face," the other "Abide With Me." Following the service in charge of Rev. Davies, the Masonic order, of which Mr. Reeves was long a member, took charge. The impressive funeral service of the Masons was conducted by the master, M. L. Keeler.

The bearers of the casket were W. L. Grubb, Robert White, A. C. Trav-

REMODELLING WILL START NEXT WEEK

Work on remodeling quarters for L. G. Swales, Samson agent, at 114-16 East Fifth street, is to start at once, with G. E. Preble as the contractor. The McFadden interests are making the alterations as owners of the property.

The brick wall now separating the two rooms will be removed, the walls replastered and the front brought down to date. The enlargement will give Swales a room fifty feet wide extending back to the alley and will give him ample room for handling his tractor business and the line of high grade second hand automobiles he proposes introducing as a new feature of his enterprise when the improvements are completed.

Do You Know Hudson

But Through Sheer Merit Alone Essex Made Its Thirty Million Dollar Sales Record

Builds the Essex?

Essex success has not been accidental. No one doubts its right to the position it holds.

On the Cincinnati Speedway, a stock chassis Essex set the world 50-hour endurance mark, of 3037 miles, under American Automobile Association supervision. Another stock Essex holds the unequalled 24-hour road mark of 1061 miles.

But how many know why Essex in its first year revealed qualities more mature, more evident of the influence of long experience, than is commonly found in cars even in their third and fourth year.

You will recall the Essex was announced one year ago without one word as to the identity of its builders. Not a claim was made for its performance.

You were asked to go look at it, take a ride and form your own opinion. The Essex was required to speak for itself.

Now that it has established itself, it is revealed why Essex has all the qualities of cars of long development.

Was Designed by Hudson Engineers

They conceived it as they developed the Super-Six. All they learned about endurance, they incorporated in the Essex.

They gave to the Essex the power that has made it famous in all quarters. Its speed is the result of what had been learned in making the Super-Six winner of all worth while speed records.

The Essex can never be all that the Super-Six is for they are totally different types.

But the Essex does bring quality and performance to a class field that was unknown.

The former owners of large costly cars that have adopted the Essex have not been Hudson users. They have come from other cars, cars that fall short of the Super-Six in all particulars save size and cost.

The Essex appeals to such users because of its nimbleness. They like the way its performance compares with that of the Super-Six. You can see this on every hand. The two cars in any community that are most prominent because of their performance ability are the Hudson Super-Six and the Essex.

Essex Did Not Need Hudson's Endorsement

Think of the advantages Essex has had. What ordinarily would have required years to perfect was made possible in the very first model.

That is why 20,000 are now running, why more than $30,000,000.00 was paid for Essex cars in ten months.

You have not needed the Hudson endorsement to understand Essex performance.

Essex has won its own way. Hudson gave it full benefit of the experience of its engineers and the ability of its manufacturing organization. Its name was not needed.

Now Hudson takes the same pride in acknowledging its kinship to Essex that a father might in speaking of his son who on his own account had made good.

CHANDLER HOME ON BROADWAY IS OCCUPIED BY DAVIS

Finishing Touches On Building Will Not Be Put On Before Feb. 1.

Chas. L. Davis today is located in his handsome new garage building at the corner of Broadway and Sixth streets, the new home of the Chandler, and will soon have his equipment arranged in the order in which it was planned to have it installed. It will be a month yet before glass will be available for the windows in the show room and front of the building and for this reason the building will have an unfinished appearance for the next thirty days at least.

The building is 100 by 125 and divided into three rooms, the work shop, public storage and display. There are three entrances, two on Sixth and one on Broadway. The work shop is 50 by 100, the storage department the same and the display room is 25 by 68 feet. The floor of the display room is of tile, but the interior decorations have not been decided upon as yet, and will not be for some time.

The office and ladies' rest room is on a mezzanine floor over the show room and is fixed up in an attractive manner.

In the shop Davis is arranging his equipment to give the minimum of service at the least expenditure of energy.

The "dirty pit" has been eliminated entirely and in its stead is arranged two overhead carriers, from which front and rear ends of machines may be elevated from the floor so that workmen can get at them readily to make repairs.

There is a flood of light in all departments with many conveniences that will be for the interest of the workmen and patrons.

The structure is a cement construction and represents a cost of about $20,000. The owner of the building is J. M. Donley, of Long Beach, who bought the corner some months ago for the purpose of erecting the garage for Davis.

When the building is completed, it is the intention of Mr. Davis to have a formal opening of his new quarters.

Mrs. Ransom Reid has the honor of having received delivery of the new Chandler to be put out in the new home. It is a chummy roadster and was received today. Mrs. Reid placed the order some months ago and has been patiently awaiting her turn on the waiting list. It has been necessary for Davis to maintain for a long time.

VELIE AND MONARCH IN NEW HOME SOON

In the hands of painters today, the display rooms of the Velie automobile and Monarch tractor will be ready for occupancy within a few days. F. B. Smith is owner of the building and with L. Crasher forms the firm that will handle these vehicles. The two rooms at 521-23 N. Main have been thrown into one, making an attractive display room.

There will be two repair departments at rear, service station each for the Velie and Monarch tractor. Alterations are yet to be completed for the room that will be occupied by the repair department. It is expected that the tractor shop will be ready within the coming week.

Experts have been secured for each department.

John Dunstan Tells Of Camping Out Days That Pioneers All Remember

FOR years and years John Dunstan, whose home is on East Seventeenth street in the Tustin district, never missed a summer's camp.

He was one of those who enjoyed camping out, and with him hunting has been more a part of camping out than camping out a part of hunting. He never hunted for market. He hunted for the sport of it, and just to get game for the larder.

"I always have and I always will enjoy being out in the hills and the canyons," said he. "I like to get some game, but I enjoy hunting even if I don't get a shot."

"I've got me a new shotgun," said John Dunstan, sitting in his "den" at his home. "It's a pump gun, and it may be all right but I can't hit anything with it. I was out after quail yesterday, and I did some shooting but I didn't do any hitting. Here's the shotgun that I have been using for over thirty years."

And he drew a double-barreled Parker 12 gauge out of the closet. Its barrels were clean steel, and the chambers, held up to the light showed hardly a pit. Without doubt, Dunstan is one of those many hunters who keep their firearms shining bright.

"And here's my old 45-60," he continued. "It is the same old kind of a gun that Clarence and Ed and Josh Parker and Andrew Harris used to use. What deer I've killed, I killed with this old timer. I've killed many a rabbit with it. We used to load our own shells in those days, shotgun shells and rifle cartridges."

And Dunstan was back in the old days, along in the early eighties, when Andrew Harris, one of the best known and most popular of the old hunters, was his neighbor, living just east of the Dunstan place on East Seventeenth street.

"I wasn't in the same class with the Parker brothers and Andrew Harris when it came to getting game, you understand," said he, "for they were great hunters and wonderful shots, but in those days nearly everyone around here used to go camping every summer, and we all knew each other well and had time to enjoy camping more than we seem to in these days."

People these days seem likely to lose the art of camping out, to miss the pure enjoyment of the wilds and out-of-doors of our own mountains and canyons as the old-timers knew them. Now if one wants to go camping, he takes his automobile and goes far away. In the early days, the family, or perhaps two or three or more neighboring families combined, got together their tents and camp outfits, drove by wagon and buggy to some fine camping place in the Santiago, Trabuco, Bell or Hot Springs canyon and there pitched camp.

Today a resident of the valley is more likely to get to know his neighborhood by mountains and canyons by Sunday afternoon dashes in his automobile. That is all very well, of course, but Dunstan and those other pioneers who knew and loved the

Uncle Henry Has Kick At "Passel o' Folks" At Game

BY HERMAN REUTER

THEY order be a sassety organized for the prevention of croolity to futbawl fans," said Uncle Henry, who was in a local barber shop, waiting to get a shave. "I'd be one o' the fut to jine a organization like that."

"Believe me, young feller, they shud o' been a sassety like that on the job at the futbawl fracas at Pasadena on Noo Year's Day. The fans wuz made to suffer suthin' terrible, doornin' the las' few minutes o' play, myself inclouded."

"Somehow a big passel o' the folks that wuz present seemed to hev got together, along to'rd the las' o' the in-gagement, that the session wuz about to be completed. Well, what does about 10,000 o' em do? They gits up an' begins to clutter up the aisles o' the gran' stan's, preventin' the poor sufferin' public that wuz acotely interested in the game from seein' the mos' croolial period o' the con-flict."

"There they wuz, herdin' down out'n the stan's like a flock o' sheep, chatterin' to each other and givin' each other the once over through their monicles and lornettes, jes' as though they wuzn't such a thing as a futbawl game within seventeen thousand miles."

"An' in the meantime they wuz me an' a few thousan' others, tryin' our durndest to see the proceedin's on the gridiron, but to no avail. It wuz astoundin'. They wuz ole Harvard a battlin' its all-fredest to put a touchdown across, an' dur'n near succeedin' but the only part o' all this that the fans cud witness wuz a glimpse now and then."

"Either they order be a sassety organized to prevent futbawl fans from bein' made to suffer like that, or they order be instittushuns started to give a considerable passel o' the public some p'inters in the ethicks o' attendin' a futbawl game."

"Or ef either one o' these plans ain't satisfactory, it might be a good idee for the managemint o' the Tournament o' Roses to stage a kind o' a preliminary, pink tea futbawl dancin', like, along a couple o' days before the reg'lar game on Noo Year's Day. That wud give the crowd with the monicles an' lornettes a chanst to give each other the once over, an' stampeed all over the aisles as much as they pleased, an' still not grieve any o' the real fut-bawl fans."

Uncle Henry, seeing he would have to wait several minutes before his turn in the chair, produced his corn-cob pipe and proceeded to fill it. "Talkin' about futbawl," said the old man, lighting up, "recent, when the Scott high school team, o' Toledo, wuz sojournin' in Los Angeles, they wuz a lot o' folks wonderin' why they didn't go up against Long Beach. Well, it seems to me the explanation might be found in the score up at Everett, Washington, Noo Year's Day. Ye'll recollect, Scott wuzn't able to do nuthin' more'n to hold Everett high school to a 7 to 7 score. Chances is ef Scott had gone up again Long Beach, Scott wud o' been trounced suthin' bad. An' mackerly Scott wudn't o' had much influence on the gate receipts up at Everett, arterwards. They is as much politics in futbawl as there is anywhere else, I reckon."

BOOK TELLS OF GLEN MARTIN AND HIS BIG BOMBER

Year's Progress In Aeronautics Reviewed In Buffalo Publication

Glenn L. Martin, former Santa Ana, and his aeroplane factory company, the Glenn L. Martin Company at Cleveland, O., are featured in the Aircraft Year Book just issued in Buffalo by the Manufacturers' Aircraft Association, Inc.

This book, containing 400 pages, reviews the activities of the manufacturers of planes in America, and gives an analysis and review of progress in aero work for the last year.

Important events in military aeronautics, lists of aces of the various countries that battled by air, aero records, and much valuable information for any person interested in aeronautics is included in the volume.

Maps and illustrations are used, more space being given to illustrations than to reading matter.

The Glenn L. Martin bomber is hailed in the book as a wonderful machine. The machine is declared to be the "concrete evidence of the Glenn L. Martin Company's successful war effort."

Martin's career is reviewed briefly. Mention is made of his early flying efforts and success in Santa Ana in 1909, and of the establishment of his factory in Los Angeles.

The book contains numerous pictures of the Martin bomber, and an accurate and detailed description of it, too. A half dozen full-page pictures of the bomber and of the Cleveland plant, together with exterior and interior pictures of the various departments of the plant, are given.

The description of the plant tells of the installation of a cafeteria and a night school for employees of the Glenn L. Martin Company.

"The immediate work of the Glenn L. Martin Company," says the publication, "will be the completion of government contracts for the bomber, and its adaptation to peace purposes. The commercial future of the machine is promising."

"Any emergency will find the company product an asset for defense as well as an efficient instrument of commerce."

AUTOS SMASHED IN CRASH AT ANAHEIM

Two automobiles were badly damaged Thursday night when a small car driven by Clarence Curtis of Anaheim was struck by a car driven by a Mexican named Martinez, of Chino. Martinez' daughter, Flora, had one leg severely injured. After care at the hospital she was taken home. The accident occurred near North and Center streets. Curtis was attempting to turn around in the street when his machine was struck.

ROADS NEED BILLIONS, SAYS HOWARD ELLIOTT

ST. PAUL, Jan. 3.—Three billion dollars must be spent by the railroads of the United States within the next few years to provide first class passenger and freight facilities, was a declaration made today by Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, who came from New York for conference with railroad officials.

Mr. Elliott left for Chicago last night. He did not make any announcement regarding reports that the schedules to the Pacific coast via various routes, are to be shortened and that trains de luxe and extra fare trains will be put into service.

Hereafter Fiscal Year Will Be from January 31 Instead of Dec. 31

And it has come to pass that motorists today are "mooching" on the state and will continue to "mooch" until the end of this month, in the matter of renewal of the annual auto license. The motorists are besting the state by thirty days under a new regulation which makes the fiscal year for licenses end on the 31st of January instead of December. In other words, the autoists will have thirteen months use of their license this year instead of twelve, as in the past.

The motor department has found it more convenient and has come to the conclusion that it will expedite the handling of licensing by making the expiration period on January 31 instead of December 31. Holiday business and rush has in the past swamped the motor vehicle department.

Owners applying in person may secure new licenses at the Los Angeles branch, Second and Hill, but for their receipt by mail checks must be sent to the office in Sacramento, for it is from this office that licenses will be mailed.

Hereafter the number plates will remain with the car instead of with the individual, and one who sells his machine loses right to use of the number. Just what is to be gained by this is not clear to the layman, but motorcycle officers and those directing the department maintain that this method of procedure will save lots of confusion and will assist in detecting auto thieves.

One of the requirements in renewing licenses is to send in upper half of the old registration certificate. If the legal owner is other than the registered owner, he must write his name across the face of the certificate in the upper left-hand corner.

Here is a copy of a circular just sent out by the department giving information on registering:

Department Notice
Your 1919 registration, license plates and certificate, will expire January 31, 1920.

You are required to make application for a new license prior to February 1. Having done so, you are permitted to operate for a period of 30 days on proper showing of having filed your application with the correct fee with the department at Sacramento or one of its branches at San Francisco, Los Angeles or Fresno.

Licenses will be issued in person at Sacramento and our branch offices, or by mail from Sacramento. You are required to submit your 1919 Certificate of Registration as evidence of ownership and that your car has been properly licensed for the year 1919.

The proper fee can be arrived at by multiplying the given horsepower on the certificate by 40 cents. The fee for electric vehicles is $5.00.

In the case of trucks, a weight fee is charged in addition to the horsepower fee on all vehicles equipped in part or wholly with solid tires. This weight fee is as follows:

Unladen under 4000 pounds,	$ 5.00
Weighing 4000 pounds and under 6000	10.00
Weighing 6000 pounds and under 10,000	15.00
Weighing 10,000 pounds and over	20.00

Effective January 1, 1920, the Motor Vehicle Act provides that if there is a legal owner other than the registered owner his name must appear on the Certificate of Registration. Consequently, if you are not the legal owner, please see to it that the legal owner's name and address is endorsed across the face of the certificate so that it may be recorded on the new certificate for 1920. If the certificate does not carry this endorsement, the department will assume that the registered owner is the legal owner. Legal owner is one who retains title to the car.

If you have changed your address since your last registration, make the necessary notation on your certificate.

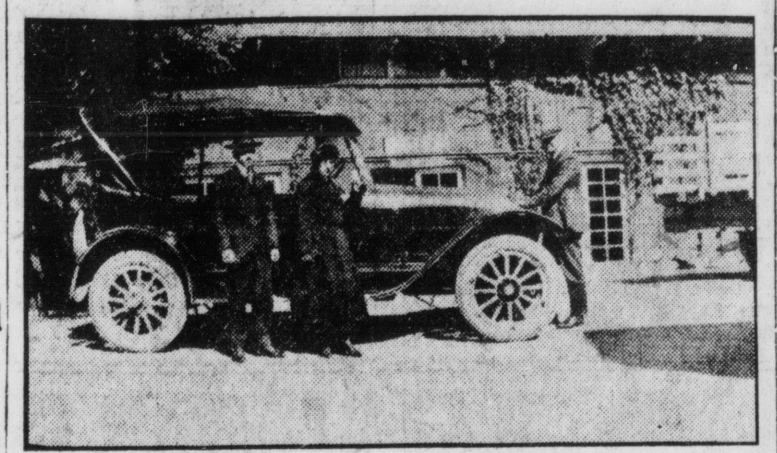

We suggest that you check your certificate against your car so that any discrepancy in the description of same may be rectified. If your certificate has been lost or destroyed, you will be required to pay 50 cents for a duplicate before your renewal can be made. In the case of loss or mutilation of your certificate, return this announcement with 50 cents, with the form on the back hereof filled out, including also the proper fee to pay for your license for 1920.

Your attention is invited to the requirements of the Motor Vehicle Act, Section 8, that all motor vehicles must be equipped with adequate brakes, and properly adjusted headlights, also to the fact that the department may revoke the license on any motor vehicle not so equipped.

Trouble Ahead
All motorists who have sold their cars in the past year and did not give the department notice of the transfer may expect trouble when

Journey To Camp Baldy In Mitchell Greatly Enjoyed

S. E. Bedford and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gifford, with Mitchell car, in front of hotel at Camp Baldy.

S. E. Bedford and Party Go Into Snow Country and Find Trip Easy

One of the prettiest drives—a nice day's outing—to be found in Southern California is that from Santa Ana to Camp Baldy, in the opinion of S. E. Bedford of the firm of Bickford & Bedford, Santa Ana agents for the Mitchell car. Bedford recently made the trip from here accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gifford of Anaheim.

"The road by way of Brea Canyon leads one over paved highways lined on both sides with beautiful groves until Brea is reached and then going on up the canyon, one passes the old fields and follows a winding and enchanting road around through the canyon to the Orange county line. From that point one is inclined to say 'durn' until he again reaches the paved highway connection into Pomona, and here again one sees only beauty on either side of the road."

"The grade to the camp is easy for the Mitchell, and we 'walked' over it in high without taxing the motor or heating the water to an unusual degree. We had a most delightful day and lunch at the hotel, which is now open the year around under the management of Mr. McCullough. At this particular season of the year snow is most always to be found in the mountains back of the camp proper and here it is that lots of easterners like themselves frequently just to get a touch of the climatic conditions obtaining in their old homes and to engage in snow-bait fights."

Another Lynx Taken In Trap Set By Trabuco Rancher

Another lynx has been caught by Charles Shaw on the ranch in Trabuco canyon known as the "Uncle Jimmy" Shaw place. About two weeks ago Shaw set out a trap for a varmint that had been making rather free with Shaw's chickens. The trap caught and held an unusually big lynx. His weight was twenty-five pounds.

That capture did not end the depredations in the chicken yards, and Shaw set another trap. He strung the fore parts of a rabbit in a tree high enough up so that the bobcat or lynx would have to jump for it. Covered up with dirt, on the ground, was the trap.

This morning, Shaw found another lynx in the trap. He weighed eighteen pounds.

BUICK AGENCY IN NEW QUARTERS, SYCAMORE AT SIXTH

Kolberg & Gerken Move to Own Building Erected at Cost of $30,000

Otto Kolberg and Henry Gerken of the Orange County Garage Company, Buick agency, today are greeting friends and patrons in their new garage building at the corner of Sycamore and Sixth streets, and are receiving the compliments of friends and patrons as they call to give the new home the once over.

The structure is a handsome one, erected of brick at a cost of about $30,000. The building is 100x117, and one of its attractive features, so far as the interior is concerned, is the absence of supporting posts or pillars. The wall separating the display room from the work and storage part of the building is the only one in the interior, the roof being supported by iron beams and trusses.

The show room is 30x60, with tile floor. The walls are finished in cream and sage color, with the windows and doors done in gray enamel, making a pretty combination. Dome lights in the ceiling with special lighting fixtures under the display windows throwing rays of light against the machines on display offer splendid facilities for lighting the show room at night. From four to six cars can be exhibited on the floor.

The ladies' rest room, office and stock room are immediately back of the show room. The company is preparing to carry a much larger stock of Buick parts than ever before.

The machinery equipment is located in the east end of the building, and here a long pit has been constructed. It is long enough to take care of nine cars at one time, offering facilities for taking care of a big lot of work at one time. The storage and workshop departments are all in one room. There are two entrances to the building, one on Sycamore and one on Sixth street.

The Orange County Garage Company was organized in 1908, first at Orange, and transferred to Santa Ana about two years later, taking over this territory as Buick representative. The quarters on East Fourth street just vacated has been the home of the Buick for about ten years.

RUBBISH MAN WINNER OF ACTION IN COURT

With Attorney John B. Nichols producing evidence to show that his client, James Agagianian, had no part in whatever fraud Charles S. Brown, now dead, might have practiced upon the Elsinore Valley Growers' Association, judgment for the defendant was given Wednesday by Judge Williams in the association's action against Agagianian.

According to statements made in the case, Brown was manager of the Elsinore association. It is alleged that he defrauded the association out of $20,000. After his death an examination of records showed a number of checks of the association made out to Agagianian, an Armenian rubbish collector, the same man who held the Santa Ana garbage contract for the last year. The plaintiff alleged that Agagianian had received these checks knowing of the fraud upon the association. Suit was for about $750. The defendant's testimony was to the effect that Brown frequently borrowed sums from Agagianian and generally paid them back within a few days by check. Agagianian said he was told by Brown that Brown owned a cannery at Elsinore.

WASS AUTO CO. IN NEW QUARTERS ON EAST 5TH STREET

With the vacating of the premises at 117 East Fifth street by Chas. L. Davis with his Chandler and Cleveland agency, the Wass Auto Company today is taking possession and will make that number the home of the Reo and Dort. The Wass Auto Company has been located with the Livery Garage at 424 West Fourth street. It will have more room in its new quarters.

The Wass Auto Company derives its name from that of the owner, Frank J. Wass, and was taken on an additional "s" to his name in the company to get away from the suggestion that the company is a "was" or has been. The company is very much in the present and decidedly out of the class of a "was" and has been cutting some capers in this vicinity in the way of slipping Reos and Dorts into the hands of new owners.

H. H. Kelly, old-timer in the auto game in this city and for many years agent for the Cadillac and other makes, is lined up with the Wass Auto Company as a salesman.

YEAR'S FIRST LOW TIDE DUE MONDAY

Numbers of sportsmen of Santa Ana and Orange county today were looking forward to the first of three of this year's low tides, which will occur Monday at 3:28 in the afternoon, according to the 1920 tide book, copies of which are now ready for distribution at Victor Walker's sporting goods store. In tide parlance, Monday's is called a minus one-foot and five-tenths tide. Similar low tides will not occur again until June and December. No tides will be as low as the lowest one last year, it was stated. Last year's lowest was a minus one-foot and six-tenths tide. Today's was a minus one-foot tide, occurring at 2:01 p. m. Tomorrow's will be a minus one-foot and three-tenths tide, occurring at 2:45 p. m.

2315 TELEPHONES IN SANTA ANA EXCHANGE

When it comes to comparative figures as to Santa Ana's advancement the Pacific Telephone company has some that might be of interest. To day there are 2315 telephone subscribers served by the Santa Ana exchange, nearly all within the city limit, as compared with 1110 subscribers in the same territory ten years ago.

THE DANGER OF SPEED

The danger of speeding lies in the possibility of a broken part. A man takes his life in his hands when he runs too fast no matter how good his car is, but it's absolutely unwise to drive fast unless a dependable mechanic has first gone carefully over your car. The wise thing to do is to have your car looked over carefully now and then no matter whether you are a fast driver or not. It will prevent "something" from happening at the moment least expected. Let us overhaul your car. We'll do it honestly and well. You'll always find our charges entirely reasonable with no time wasted.

MOTORISTS GAIN MONTH'S TIME ON LICENSES

they apply for 1920 licenses. They will have their Certificates of Registration returned to them, and it will be necessary to pay fees on their new cars, in addition to a 25 per cent penalty. Under the new laws, the matter of transferring a machine has been made very simple. The purchaser retains the same numbers and pays a fee of $1 to the department for a new Certificate of Registration.

Another feature that all motorists should bear in mind is that under the new law it is incumbent upon them to notify the Motor Vehicle department of changes of addresses within ten days and to file their new postoffice address. Failure to do so constitutes a misdemeanor under the new act.

The department will send to each motorist a notice of renewal, also two blanks for operator's license. Under the law, motorists who do not have their renewals in the hands of the Motor Vehicle department by midnight of March 1 will be penalized to the extent of 25 per cent.

If the motorist will comply with the simple requirements sent forth to procure their 1920 license plates and registrations, and promptly send their renewals to the Motor Vehicle department at Sacramento, or the branches at San Francisco, Los Angeles or Fresno, it will not only assure them of receiving their Certificates of Registration and plates promptly, but will likewise assist the department in cleaning up the 1920 registrations in record time.

DUNSTAN TELLS OF EARLY DAY CAMPING

old-time camps knew thet the automobile had spoiled forever the comradeship that only the old-time camping out for weeks at a time could develop.

Used Hard Bullets

"We moulded our own bullets for our rifles," said Dunstan. "The experienced hunters preferred a harder bullet than came with the ready-made cartridges, so we used to buy tea-cans at the stores and melt them down. In those days tea came in lead cans with the lead carrying a good bit of tin. That stuff made good bullets.

"I used to hunt rabbits a good deal with my 45-60. That sounds like a pretty big rifle for rabbit-hunting. Well, I used a round ball that I could be bought at the stores. In loading my cartridge for rabbit shooting I'd put in a very light load of powder and a round ball, and the old gun shot with absolute accuracy."

It was in Bell canyon that Dunstan killed his first buck. Beginning away back in the early seventies, down on to the deer season of 1919, how many, many men have killed their first buck in that canyon!

"One summer, quite a party of us was camped under the big sycamores in Bell canyon," said he. "Some of us had walked over by trail to the Hot Springs. Clarence Parker and Andrew Harris stirred up a couple of deer going up, but the deer got away. Coming back, Andrew and I cut below and came into Bell canyon about a mile and a half below the Miller place. I got to the creek, and put my rifle down while I laid down at the edge of the stream to get a drink. I was just about to start drinking when fifty or sixty yards away out of a clump of brush a nice two-pointer buck jumped up. I didn't stop to get my drink. I grabbed my rifle and fired. The first shot knocked the deer down, but he was up and going fast when the second shot got him.

His First Buck

"Tickled? I should say so, and Andrew Harris was just as much tickled as I was. He had killed a good many deer, and he was mighty well pleased that it came my luck to get this one.

"My next deer I got down toward the San Mateo. That time I was hunting with my neighbor, J. E. Luther, who was a good hunter, tireless and painstaking. I imagine that in his hunts in the nearby mountains he saw just about as many deer as it fell to anyone's lot to see."

In the eighties and nineties the Trabuco canyon was always a favorite camping place for a number of Tustin families. Later the so-called tin mines monopolized the canyon and the old "picnic grounds" of the Trabuco were no longer the public's. Just now steps are being taken to restore this beautiful canyon to fuller use by the people who love to camp out.

"Commencing along about 1892," said Dunstan, "every year John Ziellian and I had a camping trip. Sometimes we would go to some particular place and stay there for three or four weeks. Another time we might jaunt about. He had a nag, and his nag and my nag would make a team. We aren't through with those camps yet. We get out every once in a while, only now we go in an automobile.

"We used to get some fine mountain quail in the Trabuco. He is rather a stupid bird. He will get up on a rock and sit and look at you. He doesn't get up and go like the valley quail.

"In 1898 Ziellian and I drove to Little Bear Lake. We got a lot of mountain quail on that trip, and all the squirrels we could eat. There was no limit on squirrels. One afternoon I shot a dozen easily, and quit because we couldn't expect to eat squirrels forever. There were big flocks of mountain quail there then. Game is thinned out up there now just as it is almost everywhere.

"We got mountain quail at Smith mountain about twenty years ago. Luther brought in a deer, and we had plenty of venison in camp, along with lots of small game.

"That was a rattlesnake section. I think every man in that camp killed one or more rattlesnakes that season. They were thick, but kind of stupid. Ziellian was gathering ferns to make a bed, and he reached in and picked up a rattlesnake. He didn't keep his hold though. He let go quicker than he grabbed."

Quail and rabbits—Dunstan, like every old time hunter in this section tells of the paradise of game that was here in the seventies and eighties. Quail and rabbits were killed by him almost as regularly as the days and weeks rolled around.

He was only a boy when his father, James Dunstan, in 1875 moved onto what is now a portion of the Hewes ranch at El Modena. Unable to get irrigation water, the place was abandoned and the father about 1878 bought the property on East Seventh, near Korba street, where his son now lives.

"The country was full of varmints," said Dunstan. "The barking of coyotes at night was as familiar to us then as the crowing of roosters is to all of us today. Bobcats and lynx used to break into our chicken yard and steal chickens. Right here on this place I killed two bobcats. I got each the same way. In daytime, the dogs got on the trail and ran the bobcat up a sycamore tree, and I went out with my shotgun and knocked him out."

Mob of Polecats

"When I was a boy riding horseback at the edge of the hills just ton fellers, himself sez as Finley's activities with the outfit helped their efficiency a hundred percent. They wuz fed sugar, they ain't no question about it, but as fer that sugar actin as dope, why the allegation is ridiculous."

"Next," said one of the barbers, and Uncle Henry knocked the dottle from his pipe.

"See ye later," said Uncle Henry.

east of what is now the Hewes ranch I saw what was to me a strange sight. I saw no less than fifty spotted polecats gravely walking in a body off the hillside and across a level piece of land toward the valley. Every polecat had his tail stuck straight up in the air. Where they were going, I don't know. I know they didn't all get there, for I had a little Scotch terrier who made for them. They fought back, but they didn't fight together, and that dog had the time of his life. He killed thirteen of them before the rest of them scattered. I rode around and counted the dead ones. Smell? Whew-wee!

"Another strange sight is impressed on my memory. Along about 1877 there was a fire in the foothills. In those days, you know, there were lots of tarantulas here. You'll find them in the foothills yet occasionally, but they are not as numerous as they used to be. As a result of that fire, I suppose, the tarantulas came off the hills into the valley. I saw hundreds and hundreds of them. They were the big hairy fellows, some of them as big as saucers. For awhile they were everywhere there along the foothills. My father picked up to throw away from the edge of the horse trough what he thought was a bunch of chicken feathers. It was a big tarantula. Nobody was bitten by any of them. It's the tarantula with red spots on him that will jump at you."

Sees Bear Tracks

"Did you ever see any bear in the mountains?" was asked.

"No, I didn't, but I saw lots of tracks. Up in the Trabuco, where there were bear when we camped in the early eighties, I ran on to tracks often. I saw some big tracks. Once I thought I was going to get a shot at a bear. I came on his trail, and knew the bear couldn't be far ahead of me. I followed the trail but never got sight of him.

"I was certainly lucky that I didn't too, for the second cartridge stuck in my gun. If I had found my bear the first cartridge would have worked all right, but the second would not have. I had a defective bullet. Just one bullet doesn't always stop a bear, even if it hits him in a vital spot. When I go up against a grizzly I want more than one cartridge that will go in my gun readily."

NO ONE WILL OCCUPY BIG SALOON BUILDING

BRIDGEPORT, O., Jan. 3.—The "largest bar in the world," Sam Ungerfelder's "Acorn Saloon," in this city, is now a sad relic of its former glory. Cobwebs and inch thick dust cover everything.

The building is for rent but can find no takers. There is a superstition attached to the building and natives look on it in awe—as though an invisible giant had been felled and no one could be found to bury him.

The "Acorn," which grew into a mighty oak and became known from Maine to California, went out of business when Ohio went dry last May. Its proprietor, who started in a humble way, is today a millionaire and capitalist.

Twenty thousand drinks a day were served over this bar by thirty bartenders. After West Virginia boarded the water wagon three years ago thousands of the thirsty from Wheeling, just across the river made daily pilgrimage to the "Acorn." It is said that there was never a fight in Ungerfelder's place.

IT'S EASY TO GET AND EASY TO LOSE

While it is easy for a real estate agent to get a license, he will have it taken away from him if he fails to live up to the rules and regulations.

That was the declaration of Ray L. Riley of Colton, the new state real estate commissioner. In an address at Riverside, Riley said the chief requirement of his commission was to "police," to see that every person making a business of dealing in real estate had a license.

"Every person who obtains a license," declared Riley, "must have a good standing in his community, have two persons to vouch for him, have an office and $10 in money. It won't be so difficult to obtain a license, but a person must mind his cues if he holds it."

"The new law is drastic and proposes to protect both real estate agent and property owner. It will keep land out of the hands of fraudulent speculators and deal severely with those who violate the law."

Riley declared that he intends to keep hot after the curb salesman. Prosecutions will follow where any one is found selling real estate without a license.

He said it would be well for the real estate agents to observe that a penalty is provided for an agent who fails to report the dismissal of a salesman.

He said there were 3000 real estate brokers in the state, 1200 corporations and 3000 salesmen. He said that an office for the commission would be opened in Los Angeles today and one in San Francisco January 15.

The maximum penalty for violating the law was two years in prison or a $2000 fine.

The law became effective last July, but Mr. Riley has given these subjects to the law plenty of time in which to obtain licenses. He said that they would have thirty days after January 1st to comply with the law.

A directory of all those holding licenses will be issued by the state after February 1.

He suggested that the agents all over the state have a standard form of contract. He said that it would save annoyance and confusion and put the real estate business on an uniform basis.

NEW MARRIAGE LICENSE MARK IS REACHED

With the issuance of fourteen marriage licenses by County Clerk J. M. (Cupid) Backs on the last day of 1919, the year that has just closed romped to a finish with 18 more permits issued than during the previous record year, 1917. The number of licenses issued in 1919 was 1544.

In 1917 a total of 1536 licenses was issued. Here are the complete figures on totals of licenses issued during the past nine years: 1911, 1088; 1912, 1314; 1913, 1382; 1914, 1375; 1915, 1421; 1916, 1493; 1917, 1526; 1918, 1281; 1919, 1544.

The year 1919, in addition to being the record year for licenses, also is unique in that it is the year in which more June licenses were issued than during any of the previous eight years.

Beginning with the month of June, 1911, the same month in each succeeding year has been the most popular with young couples who decided to get married in Orange county.

Following are the figures for June: 1911, 127; 1912, 131; 1913, 132; 1914, 142; 1915, 157; 1916, 156; 1917, 166; 1918, 128; 1919, 173. As is indicated by the totals for the past nine years, 1918 was the worst month that Cupid had in Orange county since 1911. Mars undoubtedly will be responsible for this. In 1918 practically all young men of marriageable age were overseas, and those of marriageable age who were not in the military service were not sufficient in numbers to bring the 1918 total up to anything like it would have been had conditions been different.

County Clerk Backs and his deputies today were confident that the present year will see all previous marriage license records broken in Orange county. Old Man H. C. of L. evidently is losing in his battle against Cupid.

When the little fellow with the darts decides to let loose one of his weapons he does so, regardless of what the cost of living may be.

2000 PCT. GAIN IN ELECTRICITY CONSUMPTION

The consumption of electricity in Orange county has increased approximately 2000 per cent during the past ten years, according to records of the Southern California Edison Co.

There were 2000 electric meters in the county ten years ago, as compared with 10,471 at the present time, and the consumption of electric energy for lighting and power in 1919 was less than 2,000,000 kilowatt hours as compared with nearly 40,000,000 kilowatt hours in 1919.

A year ago there were 4172 electric meters in Santa Ana, today there are 4337, of which 204 are for power and 12 for cooking.

A year ago Fullerton had a total of 891 meters, today she has 1041.

A year ago Orange had 1232 meters, today she has 1318.

A year ago there were 2963 electric meters in Orange county, outside of incorporated cities, today there are 3347.

Newport beach had 562 meters a year ago, today she has 602.

Huntington Beach had 567 meters a year ago and today has 557. Stanton had 72 last year and 75 this year.

Anaheim's electricity is delivered in bulk and distributed over the municipal system, so the Edison company has no record of the number of meters there, and Brea and Seal Beach are in other districts of the electric company.

There are 746 watts of electric energy in one horsepower, and 1.3 horsepower equals one kilowatt. This will help to explain the significance of the following figures of electricity consumed in November, 1919, which is one of the lightest months of the year. The summer months, with the operation of many pumping plants, are the greatest electric months. 5,413,000 kilowatt hours being used in July of the past year.

As a sample of the way the current is distributed, here are the figures for November on K. W. H. distributed:

Santa Ana: Lighting, 118,519; cooking, 1988; power, 67,875; total 187,482.

Orange: Lighting, 22,270; cooking, 229; power, 92,747; total, 125,246.

Anaheim: total current delivered to city, 113,108.

Fullerton: Lighting, 33,429; cooking, 1642; power, 20,341; total, 55,412.

Newport Beach: Lighting, 8,748; cooking, 0; power, 679; total, 9427.

Huntington Beach: Lighting, 8,574; cooking, 0; power, 996; total, 9,570.

Stanton: Lighting, 445; cooking, 1,210; power, 3,152; total, 4,807.

Orange county district, outside cities: Lighting, 52,887; cooking, 31,547; power, 800,002; total, 885,436.

Total Orange county district, November, 2,213,000 K. W. H. consumed.

Leaving here at 2:30 Friday morning the drive of about five hundred miles was completed the same day, thirteen hours being taken enroute.

The property holdings of the party are located on three islands, 25 miles from Stockton, which latter place the party made their headquarters, taking a boat daily over to the islands. E. E. Haun, who went north to take charge of Graham's land, will have under his charge between 1100 and 1200 acres.

Nine hundred were formerly purchased and on this trip purchased another two hundred, which he divided between his sons, Claude and Walter Graham.

On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Hare left for home and the local party started Monday evening, coming as far south as Salinas for the night and Tuesday completed the trip, with 400 miles for the day's drive.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dowdle, who were here to spend Christmas with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murdy, and other members of the family, left Monday for Los Angeles, where relatives of Mr. Dowdle reside. They were to visit there until Wednesday, when they expected to leave on their return to Safford, Arizona.

New Year's day was observed as a holiday at the Oceanview school with school reopening again Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Sharratt left the past week by machine on a trip to Watsonville. They expect to be away three or four weeks.

Miss Ethel Eastman of Orange, primary teacher of the Oceanview school, will remain for the rest of the term with Miss Ethel Dwyer. She moved Monday from Mrs. Stefanzi's, where she had been since the opening of the term.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Scott Wilmarth and children drove to Pasadena on Wednesday evening and were over night guests of friends and attended the Tournament of Roses parade on Thursday.

Mrs. G. M. Roberson and her mother, Mrs. Jerusha Harlan, went to Long Beach Wednesday morning, where they remained over New Year's day with friends, several of whom are late arrivals from the East. Mr. Roberson joined them New Year's day and all returned home that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bonebrake moved this week from Bolsa to the Cleaver place, which they purchased this fall.

A delightful New Year's dinner party was enjoyed at the George Gothard home, where a number of guests were entertained for the day. Those entertained were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gothard and family and Mrs. Mary E. Clemens and son, Reuben Clemens, of Wintersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Crane, with their guest, Stanley Vail, motored to Long Beach Friday and the drive was extended to several points of interest for the benefit of the eastern visitor.

The New Year was royally welcomed in this vicinity, numbers remaining until the midnight hour to take a share in the demonstration. Whistles, bells, horns, voices and some other sounds mingled in the chorus which lasted fully half an hour.

"The Voice of God" is announced as the topic of next Sunday morning's service at the Wintersburg Methodist church, and in the evening Rev. Wilmarth will speak on "The Young Man Who Made Good."

Homer Sprinkle motored to Pasadena Thursday and attended the Tournament of Roses.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Moldal entertained at a pleasant family dinner at their home on New Year's. The guests included Mrs. Moldal's mother, Mrs. M. W. Blodgett, of Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, who came down Tuesday; also her sister, Mrs. Gladys Trussett, who accompanied her; a brother, W. Blodgett, wife and family of the same city. Mr. Moldal's father, O. Moldal, of Willowbrook, and brother, Alec Moldal, the latter of whom arrived Wednesday to remain over the holidays.

Mrs. E. Ray Moore and Mrs. B. A. Farrar were Santa Ana visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Gothard were New Year's guests at Whittier at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rawlings.

Howard Fry of Santa Ana, was a guest Thursday night and over Friday of the C. H. Maddux home.

Willard STORAGE BATTERY

What Keeps a Battery Young

To be reliable, a storage battery must have well-made plates.

Battery solution must be proper strength and required purity.

Battery jars must be mechanically strong and must allow no leakage of current or battery solution.

But it's the insulation between the plates that keeps that battery full of life and adds months to its term of useful service.

Drop in and ask us to tell you about Threaded Rubber Insulation, and some of the records it has made in keeping batteries on the job far beyond what used to be the battery age limit.

Monarch "Lightfoot" Special Orchard Tractor Is Here

SOME SPECIAL MONARCH FEATURES

Famous Monarch Patented Manganese Tracks, 8 inches wide, 50 inches high. Pressure on soil less than 4 lbs. per square inch. Three speeds forward, one reverse, 1½, 2¼ and 3½ miles per hour. Transmission ball bearing mounted. Full spring mounting between frame and oscillating trucks. Total height only 50 inches. Ground clearance more than 12 inches. Trucks over SEVEN feet long. Belt pulley for stationery power work furnished as regular equipment. All gears completely enclosed and run in oil. Fender for orchard work supplied as an extra.

The total height of the 16-9 H. P. is only 50 inches, so it is especially adapted for cultivating orchards. Fruit growers everywhere are realizing the necessity of doing this, as cultivation destroys the vegetation and preserves a mulch in the soil which holds the moisture. The Monarch 16-9 H. P. will turn a square corner or "turn on its heel." It will clear the branches and bring you as close to the trees as you wish to get.

BOXING TO BE MADE
SPORT AT COLLEGES

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Boxing probably will be taken up as a major sport in American universities and colleges.

The national collegiate association, representing 167 colleges, in convention here adopted boxing as an intercollegiate sport. It was sponsored by Maj. John Pickering and Dr. R. Tait Mackenzie of Pennsylvania University and after recommendation by Lieut. Col. Palmer Pierce, president of the organization was adopted without a dissenting vote.

SUPER-SIX SETS
CROSS NATION
MARK

"The endurance shown by the Hudson Super-Six three years ago when it made the round trip from San Francisco to New York and return in a total lapsed time of 10 days and 21 hours, has again been strikingly demonstrated in the recent setting of a new cross continent record," declared R. W. Townsend of Townsend & Wyatt.

"This time, however, it was an owner driving and the record was for dependability and not for speed. Leaving New York on June 3rd in their Hudson Super-Six, Lieutenants M. B. Alue and T. W. Caruenter, made a leisurely sight-seeing trip to Los Angeles and then to San Francisco, taking approximately two months to cover 4,700 miles.

"But the notable thing about their journey was that not a single adjustment of any kind was made on the car, the only trouble encountered being the replacement of one damaged spark plug. Even the tires went through without a single puncture.

"The two army men followed the Lincoln Highway to Chicago, where they passed a week visiting friends. From the Windy City they drove to Davenport, Iowa, and then over the River-to-River road to Omaha, from which city they took the O. L. D. trail to Denver. Before leaving Denver, they climbed Pike's Peak, taking the Pike's Peak highway to Los Angeles, afterwards going to San Francisco.

"After leaving Chicago, the worst roads were encountered in Iowa, while the best, outside of California, were in Nebraska and Utah although those in Nevada and Arizona were good. At the end of the journey, both men united in declaring that if they were to make the trip over again they would much rather do it in their Super-Six than in a passenger train."

MODERN VULCANIZING
BUYS NEW MACHINERY

The Modern Vulcanizing Works, 415 Fourth street, with a record of 100 per cent gain in business within the year, has just signified its confidence in Santa Ana's future growth by investing nearly $500 in new machinery to enable the giving of even better service to customers than in the past. Included in the order just placed, the machinery to be installed probably next week, are an automatic air pump and a new motor for use in the tire vulcanizing and repair department.

834 CIVIL PROBATE
CASES FILED IN 1919

In the year 1916 a total of 828 civil actions and probate cases were filed in the Orange county superior court. In 1917 the number was 878; in 1918 the total was 730 and in the year just closed 834 such cases were filed with the county clerk, forty-four less than in 1917.

MAXWELL OWNER
CHALLENGES
ALL COMERS

Santa Ana motorists who pride themselves on their ability to economically operate their cars are challenged to produce a better record in mechanical economy than that recently made in a run from Golden Gate to Cumberland Gap and return. And this is the way the challenge came about:

Roy P. Newman of Bakersfield, California, considers himself 100 per cent efficient in using motor cars. That his judgment is good is proven by the fact that he recently drove his Post War Maxwell Touring car with his wife and children to the noted Tennessee Mountains, 6,000 miles for the round trip, at a mechanical cost of $3.23. Now he's out with a challenge to anyone on the Pacific coast to better that record.

"We had the greatest trip of our lives," says Newman. "We were gone three months. We drove 6,216 miles and averaged 22 miles to a gallon of gasoline, in spite of the fact that we crossed thirty-two mountain ranges, negotiated the National Old Trails, visited the Grand Canyon, the Painted Desert, the Petrified forest, the Indian Pueblos and made the La Bajada grade in New Mexico. And, by the way, we made thirty-two hairpin turns on Mount La Bajada all on high or intermediate gear, never once going into low gear with our Maxwell, and at Santa Fe they told us it had never been done before by any automobile.

"That wonderful economy was made, too, in spite of the condition of the roads. We pulled 200 miles of heavy sand and mud roads in Northern Arizona and across the desert and we made the entire trip through Missouri and Tennessee across terrific gumbo flats in a down-pour of rain so heavy that they called it the worst storm in ten years.

"If anyone can duplicate that record of steep grades, poor roads, and off the beaten path of motor travel on a mechanical cost of $3.23, I want to hear about it, and I will grant him the crown which I now claim as mine as the economy Maxwell motorist of the Pacific coast."

On a mechanical cost of $3.23, I want to hear about it, and I will grant him the crown which I now claim as mine as the economy Maxwell motorist of the Pacific coast."

The Transportation is of the finest. The property is traversed by the main line of the Southern Pacific and the El Paso & Southwestern R. R. No farm is more than three and one-half miles from a loading station.

PAIGE
The Most Beautiful Car in America

Announcing a New Paige Motor

For three years the Paige engineers have been devoting their efforts to the development of a New Six-cylinder motor. With every facility for research and experiment, these men have worked with one definite object in mind—the production of the most efficient power plant in the world.

That motor is now an accomplished fact. It has passed from the laboratory to the road and there it has been tested mercilessly and continuously. It has been subjected to every stress and strain that brutal driving might suggest, but in each instance it has emerged with a flawless record.

These long, exhaustive tests have convinced us that the new Paige Motor is indeed the most efficient of all light sizes. In economy of operation, hill climbing ability, acceleration and flexibility it has far surpassed any power plant developed by this organization.

Best of all it is an original Paige product—conceived by Paige engineers and built by Paige mechanics in the Paige shops. In it we have incorporated every approved feature that is known to automotive engineering.

In brief, it represents the sum total of current engineering knowledge. It expresses accurately and completely the tremendous strides of scientific development during the entire war period. It is a strictly modern achievement—a product of the combined genius of two continents.

A New Paige Car

The war has taught American manufacturers many valuable lessons. In the past three years, for instance, we have developed an entirely new conception of precise manufacturing in large scale production.

You will find a striking example of this practice in the New Paige "Glenbrook" model.

The scrupulously accurate methods that were applied to delicate Government mechanisms are now producing every unit of our car.

With the closest inspection, vastly increased equipment and much broader experience, there could be only one result—a highly refined, highly standardized product.

One ride in the "Glenbrook" tells an eloquent story of finely-balanced construction. The smooth, even power of the motor sweeps you along without a suggestion of vibration or mechanical noise. There is merely a gentle purr from the exhaust as the car glides on its way with the buoyancy of an aeroplane.

All road shocks and jars are immediately absorbed in the velvety spring suspension.

There is no danger of sway or "side slip" no matter what the speed may be, for every ounce of weight in the chassis is distributed with scientific precision.

Inside the car there is body room, leg room and elbow room for five adult passengers to travel in luxurious comfort.

The upholstery is soft and inviting—the equipment and general appointments throughout are the best that money can buy.

So far as the design is concerned, you of course know what to expect, for this is "The Most Beautiful Car in America."

The "Glenbrook" model is our latest achievement. We merely ask you to see it—ride in it—drive it—and form your own opinion. We shall be quite content to abide by the result.

TOMORROW'S SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PRACTICAL NOTES PREPARED FOR THE REGISTER

By Cal. Ogburn

Lesson for January 4. Acts 2:14, 22-24, 32-42. Peter Preaches at Pentecost.

"Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God unto you by mighty works and wonders and signs,"—V. 22. Do you want to gain recognition—to get the ear and the eye and the tongue of people—to have their appreciation? Want notoriety—a name—fame—earthly immortality? Then you must do something extraordinary, and that "something" what God approves of. Now what can you do that ten thousand other persons would like to do but can not? Study yourself, for God has given to you the power to do that which will distinguish you, because you are different in some important respects from all other human beings who live, ever have lived or will live. By the "mighty works" of healing and of help that Jesus did he not only established the fact that God was with him, but he endeared himself to the hearts of the multitudes. Nor does that extraordinary thing that you can do have to be marvellously great in order to gain for you an enviable reputation. It seemed to the woman who did it a small thing for her to sing a little song of three stanzas about brightening the corner where you are, but by doing what hosts of other persons would have been glad to do, the name of Ina Duley Ogdon is known around the world.

We all have heard it said of some unpromising person, after he did something very much out of the ordinary, "Yes, I knew him well, and was surprised by what he did, for I could not believe it was in him." Perhaps the people living in Nazareth said this about "Jesus, the oldest of Carpenter Joseph's boys." And you may be just a person. Even those who know you best discount your ability. Well, it is in you, if you only will believe in yourself. Then get busy studying and practicing on the person who answers to your name, and "show them." God approves the man who does the extraordinary thing for which He made him capable. You can do "wonders and signs"—if you think you can. Many people act as though the difference between "brawn" and "brain" is as insignificant as the two letters that differentiate the spelling of the names. But one is finite and the other infinite in achievement. Brawn is the brute force that pulls the plow that brain invented. It is the unthinking power that yields the hoe, and that drives the pick and the shovel in the city's trenches. What shall dominate in your life—brawn? Then you are a brute among others—biped and quadruped. Is brain decidedly in the ascendancy? Then you are more than a peer of the gods, and, therefore, approved of both God and man—if you are doing "wonders and signs" that add to the world's betterment.

"God hath made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom ye crucified."—V. 36. God always has something to say regarding the man who has suffered defeat in a good cause, and what he says is invariably as just as it is final. His is the court of last resort, and his decisions are according to all that is supremely lawful and equitable. Do not "lose your head," no matter what people say about the unpopular moral question, of which you are in favor. Those who advocated the abolition of slavery were denounced, prohibitionists ridiculed and reproached, anti-lottery agitators censured, champions of the initiative, referendum and recall belonged to "that sand-lot gang"—and were they not all and severally throwing wrenches into the cylinders of the machines that were threshing out dollars and dividends. And they could show to the fraction of a mill how much and how greatly the abolition of any of these evils would detract from "our prosperity"—which is "our chief deity." Therefore "crucify" those iconoclasts. And that they did. But God's decision reversed theirs. Brutal opposition, though seemingly successful, does not annihilate great moral issues. They had put Jesus to death, but God was beyond their jealous ability to reach—and God still lives.

"With many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, Save yourselves from this crooked generation."—V. 40. A good home, a wholesome environment and friends who deserve the name, are all great aids in any man's salvation, but, after all, the one determining factor is the man himself. If he is saved from evil habits, a bad personality, sin in any form, he must, to the extent of his ability, be his own savior. He must do his part, and a great part it is, too. Nor does this mean the fact that Jesus Christ does for every man the greatest part in his redemption. Peter's exhortation to his hearers is in order today—"Save yourselves from this crooked generation." While this is not a generation of "crooks," there are enough of them to give to any man more than a holiday job of saving himself from them, and particularly as he may be more or less "deformed" himself, and to that extent, need "fixing." The man who saves himself is also lending a hand in the salvation of others. A double incentive for intelligent, energetic action.

It is worthy of observation that the subject of Peter's pentecostal sermon was "Jesus Christ." Perhaps this will be suggestive to some "pulpiters" now who, judging from the sermon topics in the newspapers, are hard pressed for "something to talk about." No doubt the "visible results" would be much more "encouraging," if the virtues of the invisible Christ were extolled as they should be. Seeing that "the church is not growing as it should," it is an experiment worth trying, as a substitute for the "popular themes" that are being discussed, and to this end it is urgently recommended. Paul wrote, "I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified." Would Paul be called "an old fogey" or a back number, if, with this determination, he preached from the pulpit of the "Rev. Apollon Ear-Tingler?"

go to Church Sunday

The new year is here. What better thing can you do in 1920 than to be a more regular attendant upon the church services and a more earnest Christian? The churches of Santa Ana have a cordial welcome for you and make a sincere effort to minister to you. They are not faultless; neither are you. They need your support—by your personal presence. You need them. They seek this year to be more efficient and helpful. Will you not co-operate?

Great Alteration

The growing demand and popularity of the line of goods carried by us makes it necessary for the to alter its plant. We have too many front seats and not enough of rear ones. This alteration will begin Sunday, 9:45 a. m., at Bible School. We will talk over the "Changed Calendar" at 10:45 a. m. See the Christian Endeavor at work, 6 p. m. And take an inventory of a "Century," at 7 p. m.

In order to avoid the rush come early.

KEEPING CLOSE WATCH FOR OIL AT NEENACH

There is one man in Santa Ana who is going to watch the progress of wildcat well near Neenach, on the west side of the Antelope Valley, with keen interest. That man is Deputy County Assessor Robert Skiles. There are others here, too, who are interested, but if the oil game wins up at Neenach they will not have as much coming as will Skiles.

Skiles has 160 acres at Neenach. Recently the Watchorn interests began the erection of a derrick about a mile and a half from Skiles' ranch. Skiles gave the oil people a lease on his ranch.

There was three-fourths of a section of grain land lying around loose up there within easy reach of the oil development, should there be any oil development. A half-dozen Santa Ana men bought this 480 acres at a grain land price, and they are hanging on to it waiting to see what is going to happen in oil around Neenach. The six men who are in on the purchase of the land are District Attorney L. A. West, Supervisor S. H. Finley, County Assessor James Sleeper, Deputy Assessor Skiles, R. S. Thompson and William Borland.

Skiles recently gave a lease to an orange grove that he owns near Richfield in this county.

SEES BIGGER TRADE WITH THIS COUNTRY

In the interests of direct fruit exportation to Brazil from the United States, and California in particular, to the end that prices there will be lowered to the consumer by the elimination of the middleman, I de O. Maia, commercial manager of the Empresa De Armazens Frigorificos de Rio Janeiro is in this state conferring with fruit men and bankers.

Maia is on a tour of the United States and came to Fresno from San Francisco. He states that he believes in a few years the American markets will be greatly expanded and that there will be a great call for California fruit in his country, where, he says, the people eat fruit as Americans eat candy.

The company he represents is said to be one of the largest cold storage and ice-making companies in the world and the largest in Brazil.

3904 USERS OF GAS NOW IN SANTA ANA

One of Santa Ana's advantages as a home, business and industrial town is her supply of natural, produced within the county and furnishing a high percentage of heat units. And the constantly increasing number of gas users in the city evidences the growth of the community and the popularity of gas for heating and cooking.

In 1912 there were 2134 gas meters in use in Santa Ana, as compared with 3904 at the present time. The following figures show how the number of gas users has increased in eight years:

Talbert and Vicinity

TALBERT, Jan. 3.—On Sunday morning Christmas was observed at the Talbert Methodist church when a treat was given all present by the teachers of the three classes of the school. Christmas carols were filed the previous afternoon by Mrs. J. J. Woodson, Mrs. C. W. Wells, Mrs. S. E. Talbert and Miss Mable Lee Woodson, a variety of candies and cookies being contained in them. Mrs. Talbert, who has the Juniors, presented each of her pupils with a small Bible and Martha Wardlow of the primary class was also the recipient of one for regular attendance. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with ferns, poinsettias and bells and a Christmas tree in token of the season. There was a large attendance.

Eugene Perry, who was here the past week on a furlough went Monday to Santa Ana to spend the day with his sister, Mrs. Barry Stice and was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. L. T. Wells. Mrs. Perry went to Los Angeles to remain over night, joining his ship, the New Mexico, at San Pedro on Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert and Miss Mable Lee Woodson were in Santa Ana Saturday and Mr. Talbert brought out his machine, which had been in the garage for sometime for repairs. It is now also resplendent in a new coat of paint.

The Fountain Valley school opened Monday following the Christmas vacation.

Mrs. Sara Warner has been absent the past week, visiting at the home of her son, S. W. Warner, at Huntington Beach.

Mrs. M. L. Thurman arrived safely at her destination, Hollywood, and enjoyed a delightful Christmas, according to late word received from her relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert were recipients of a miniature Christmas tree expressed to them from Big Creek by A. P. Vincent. The tree, a star pine, was cut by him in the forest there while covered by snow and bore a most beautiful appearance. She honked the horn and two of them went back onto the sidewalk, the other apparently not hearing the horn, continued on down the street just as Mrs. Wells came close behind to pass he turned, and seeing the machine, became excited and circled in front of the car, too close for Mrs. Wells to avoid striking him. The child's injuries proved to be only bruises.
